Kingswood Column

The Kingswood bus made several trips to Metropolitan Opera in Detroit this weekend starting on Thursday night, May 21, when many of the girls saw "Carmen." Trips into Detroit continued on Friday night for "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci," Saturday afternoon for "Madama Butterfly," and Saturday evening for "La Boheme."

The juniors put on a fashion show on Friday, May 22, under the direction of Dale Browne. Traditionally a fashion show is the junior's project to raise money for the foreign exchange student. At 11:45 the Kingswood auditorium was transformed into a scene at the Brussels World Fair with the help of a modern set designed by Pam Molnar and lighting effects under the management of Judy Jacobs. The news commentator, Rita MacGregor, described the fashions as the models walked by. Several of the girls wore foreign outfits to add to the international flavor.

Varsity AND reserve lacrosse games were scheduled for Saturday morning May 23, against Michigan State university, but the teams could not go to Lansing because of rain. Saturday night was Amateur night at Cranbrook. Under the direction of Mr. John Hunting, Miss Peggy Jones, Bill Burnett, and Becky DeWitt, the Kingswood and Cranbrook acts were presented in the Cranbrook little gymnasium from 8:30-11:30. Half of the acts displayed talent, half displayed humor or wit.

Prizes were awarded for each of the two categories. For talent from Kingswood Tedi Nardozzi received honorable mention for her dance to "Man With the Golden Arm" and Sue Crook received a commendation for her acrobatic dance.

IN THE "HUMOR" division the "Story in Rhythm," done by Sarah Marvill, Joan McDonald, Carol Yamasaki, and Nancy Linn, was given honorable mention and "The Ship," recited by Susan Young, was given a commendation.

The faculty of Kingswood and Cranbrook each put on a skit about the students, and the show ended with the Kingswood-Cranbrook Combined Glee Club singing selections from "Porgy and Bess."

The seniors were invited to an open house at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hoey on Sunday, May 24, at 5:30 p.m.

Off the Record
Dunn's reports that the young singer with promise, Ronnie Dearville, has released an album on the Era label which comes out of old standards. The young singer chants them in a warm meaningful manner.

"More Peter Gunn" by Hank Mancini will be released soon. Diane Eddy has a new album out. The record is not the best example of his talents. He does a very poor job on the "Peter Gunn" but comes off well on "Yep," his current hit. The number one record is a matter of controversy between "The Battle of New Orleans," "Crossfire," "Dream Lover," "Kookie Kookie," and "A Teenager in Love" are all in top spot on different surveys. According to BILLBOARD the fastest growing hit in the nation is "Lipstick on Your Collar" by Connie Francis on MGM. Following in hot pursuit is the other side, "Frankie and Johnny" by the same artist.

On the album scene "Peter Gunn" has continued its amazing streak, still selling. The new George Shearing album, "On Stage" is currently hot. "But Not For Me" has made somewhat of a comeback due to Ahmad Jamal's public appearance. Continuing in the series of great jazz artists, here are the top five drummers: 1) Shelley Manne 2) Chico Hamilton, 3) Louis Bellson, 4) Max Roach and 5) Gene Krupa.

Varsity Swing" on Friday, May 22. It was a casual dress affair with single tickets only on sale. The committee chairmen were: Barb Vass, decorations; Roxi Peterson, music; Linne Underdown, tickets; Sharon Merritt, chaperones; Francie Quillian, publicity, and Sue Kregor, refreshments.

MRS. SALTON, Barnum's school nurse, planned an assembly for the ninth grade girls in May. Miss Hartline, an Assistant Student Counselor at Michael Reese Hospital, Chicago, was the guest speaker. After a film entitled "Caps 'N' Bibs," showing the three year training course for a student nurse at Michael Reese Hospital, the girls' questions were answered by Miss Hartline. On Monday, May 25, the 7th and 8th grade candidates gave speeches at an assembly. The students cast ballots for the officers of their choice. The band played for this occasion. During this assembly the ninth graders who will attend Birmingham High met with Mrs. Darlin, while students who will attend the new school met with Dr. Featherstone.

THURSDAY, June 11, Barnum's Home Economic classes will present a fashion show. According to Brooke Hinchey, it will be titled "Fun in the Sun." All of the girls in the seventh, eighth and ninth grade sewing classes will participate. The seventh grade girls were required to make a four-piece skirt. The eighth graders had to make something with a facing and waistline seam. Most of the ninth grade girls made dresses or sport clothes. The cooking classes will make the refreshments and the all-purpose room classes will do the decorating.

SOME TIME early in June Barnum's year book will be distributed. This year's "Maplewood" has a number of changes. The cover will be blue with white details. Many more clubs and activities are pictured, 51 in all. This year, for the first time, all students in group pictures will be identified by name. A total of 650 books were ordered. Betty Shelley reports that the eighth and ninth grade cheerleaders sponsored a record hop, "The

Cranbrook Corridor

Nine Cranbrook students won national prizes in the National Scholastic Writing contest sponsored by the Sheaffer Pen Co. Senior Alex Fendleton led the winners with a second prize in the formal essay and a commendation for a dramatic script. In recognition of this he was awarded twenty dollars, a cartridge pen, and two certificates. Cranbrook's total number of national awards was an all-time high for the school and represented twenty per cent of the fifty-one such recognitions in Michigan.

TIM COUGHLIN, Charles Marshall, and Roger Goldman each received an honorable mention in dramatic scripts, for which they were awarded pens and certificates. Bob Braud, Roger Rothenburger, and Jeff Mitchell achieved commendations for their dramatic scripts, and received certificates. John Meir's poetry, and Bruce Berry's familiar essay each rated a commendation and a certificate. On Sunday, May 10, six seniors and five juniors were elected to the Quill and Scroll society, a national honor society for recognition of outstanding student activity in the field of journalism. The impressive ceremony was held in the school assembly hall. The honored seniors were Ron Reider, Tom Bray, Chick Cudlip, Alex Fendleton, Tony Fruhauf, and Bill Burnett. The juniors were Bob Stolorow, Steve Fairbanks, Steve Stauchel, Tim Fruey, and Boris Nicoloff. All boys were elected in recognition of work on "The Crane," Cranbrook's bi-weekly
