Watch Your Step When Buying Lawn Mowers

By ALICE WESSELS BURLINGAME
Special Writer for The Birmingham Eccentric

Many local residents have had to purchase lawn mowers this season to fit the needs of a new location or to replace old equipment. I was interested to note recently that the Federal Trade Commission has been policing this industry and the alleged retail values advertised for many of the makes of lawn mowers.

As an illustration a company may advertise a given lawn mower at a low price and follow the figure with another total as the possible retail price but you are able to get a real bargain by dealing with them.

It has been testified at hearings that the given lawn mower never has sold at the price quoted by the bargain seller or at the figure quoted on the shipping carton, so neophyte, to be a sure buyer.

If YOU have youngsters in your family please do not leave them out of the garden picture. A toddler will enjoy planting lettuce seeds as their very own. The planting of sun flowers will provide a memory they won't forget.

If you are adding roses this year select specific ones for their beauty and allow each child to plant it as their own. Friends who wish to share the roses with those who are not their friends wish to remember. The most important angle is to develop an interest in the joy of gardening in a youngster.

Allow a child to pick the flowers. Remember, the joy of "do-it-yourself" is in the participation, not a ready-made bunch of flowers which you pass on to a youngster in your little hot flat.

Recently a beloved mother of a friend of mine died. It seemed only natural to plant a Rosa Hugonia in the garden of her daughter as a tribute to this fine mother.

The "olympics" of flower arranging takes place in Rotterdam in August of 1960. I could really call the roll of at least six flower artists from this area who I wish would save their pennies and plan to go.

The International Horticultural Exhibition will be held on 125 acres of a park area near the City of Rotterdam. This event will take place March 25th and will continue through the Fall season of '60. Europe in the springtime. Let's see, I have a Dutch background, that could be a good reason to add to others for a visit to Rotterdam in 1960.

OUR COMMUNITY House Garden class just visited the garden of Clara Hopkinson, 328 George. Here we find a heavenly garden established many years ago on a small city lot. Mrs. Hopkinson decided it was the time in life to cut out lawn mowing so she cut her lawn short, placed sharp sand over the surface and made a charming garden with hard brick surface placed in a basket weave design over the lawn with many islands of plants.

A picturesque bench placed under an arch formed by two white flowering crabs gives breath taking splendor to this garden. "And now the two of us wish to move to St. Petersburg, where we can be happy with mild weather, dancing, group singing, and shuffleboard nights." There will always be beauty around Clara Hopkinson, known to many localities as Clara Hopkinson.
