

Pupils Honor Fr. Hebert

BEVERLY HILLS—"I'm just overwhelmed," said the Rev. Lucian A. Hebert Thursday at the end of a program at Our Lady Queen of Martyrs school honoring the pastor of the parish on the celebration of his 25th year in the priesthood. As school children sat on the floor around him, sixth grader Pam Traen was among the classroom representatives who presented Fr. Hebert with spiritual gifts. Later eighth grader Jim Sifferman, representing the entire school, presented Fr. Hebert with a gold chalice. Directed by Miss Catherine Skelley, school glee clubs told the story of the priest's life in song. John Burke and Karen Kastlely narrated. Open house Sunday and a solemn high mass and reception were part of the silver jubilee celebration.

WHEN GUILMET complained last week that some requirements of the proposed new law might downgrade certain streets, Shurtliff asked if he was thinking of "Riverside drive" or "the village as a whole" or a specific area.

"I'm protecting Riverside," said Guilmet, "you protect your area and I'll protect my area." Shurtliff retorted, "I'm protecting the village!"

Discussion of requirements for the R-1 zones caused some verbal wrangling between Councilmen Chester F. Guilmet and Ted Shurtliff over representing "the village as a whole" or a specific area.

Shurtliff has previously charged that Guilmet is concerned with the West Beverly area in which he lives instead of the entire village.

WHEATFIELD returned, Tuesday evening, June 9 will be Southfield Kiwanis night at Northland Playhouse. "Picnic" the play and the Kiwanis has the tickets.
