The Wave that Won.

Leonard Lane Subdivision Plans Annual Dinner-Dance

NORTH ADAMS—Residents of the Leonard Lane subdivision will be meeting and greeting their neighbors at Rosemond Hills Inn in Franklin Saturday for their fourth annual dinner-dance. Cocktail parties are being slated before party time.

Many North Adams residents attended dinner parties or joined groups in downtown restaurants before certain time of "Goodbye Charlie" at the Shubert Theatre an evening recently. The fête was a fund raising by the women's auxiliary of St. Stephens Episcopal church, Mrs. Carl Zuber of Squirrel road was chairman.

The Roland Diemers and the Sherrill Simpsons of Charnwood met the Charles Marbes of Bloomfield Hills at the Old Wayne club for dinner. The Robert Archers of Dearborn and the David DeWitts of Charnwood dined at the Fontainebleau Wine Cellars. The Roger Blackwoods entertained at dinner in their Charnwood home before leaving for the theatre. Their dinner party was also a birthday celebration honoring William Cavan of Amherstburg, Can., Mrs. Blackwood's father. Their other guests were Mrs. William Cavan, Mrs. Fred Blackwood of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Date of Farmington.

Arriving this week to visit the William Pattersons, Jr. of Watles road are Mr. and Mrs. Diana Sietler of Alexandria, Va., relatives of the Pattersons who will be house hunting in the area.

The Pattersons are also looking forward to a one-week visit during Thanksgiving week from Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bergmark of Brooklyn, N. Y., parents of Mrs. Patterson.

Sherry Brodie spent the weekend at home visiting her parents, the Robert Brodies of Harrow road. Accompanying Sherry from her Gilchrist dorm at Michigan State were friends Roberta Shutes of Lockport, N. Y., and Sharon McKerns of Northville, Mich.

Penny Rice spent last weekend visiting her parents, the Wallace

Intermediate Bridge Group Convenes in Westchester

WESTCHESTER—The Intermediate bridge group, sponsored by the Westchester women's club, met Nov. 5 at the home of Mrs. Edward Schlee, Jr. Mrs. Robert Doran and Mrs. Ken Quimette were high scorers.

The two new members who joined the group recently are Mrs. David Zimmer and Mrs. George Turbide.

The social service group met Nov. 3 at the home of Mrs. Edna Collins. A sewing project was completed and plans made for the Christmas cookie donation to the Oakland county infirmary. A telephone bridge party has been scheduled Nov. 19.

Several cocktail parties preceded for 55 couples who attended the dance at the Fox and Hounds last Saturday night given by the Westchester dance group.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pokorny hosted a party Nov. 1 at their home on Middlebury lane, in celebration of their silver wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Pokorny greeted her guests with the same love as her own sweet velvet gown she had worn at her wedding 25 years ago.

Among the guests enjoying the buffet supper was Mrs. Pokorny's matron of honor, Miss Marguerite Dunne and Mrs. Pokorny's mother, Mrs. Edward Pokorny.

A son, Mike, who is serving with the Navy in French Morocco, was unable to attend the party.

The Pokornys were married in 1934 in Grace Episcopal church, Detroit, by the Rev. "Cap" Bert Pullinger.

Winter Sports Exchange Planned in Meadowlake

BLOOMFIELD SOUTH — MEADOWLAKE — Do your Christmas shopping early and save money is the slogan of the Meadowlake women's auxiliary of the Meadowlake Civic association.

The girls are planning a winter sports exchange Nov. 14 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the home of Mrs. C. A. Miesel, 6935 Hal-yard road.

The Calico Kickers will hold the second square dance of the fall season at 8:30 p.m., Nov. 13 at the Valley Woods school. The public is invited to attend.

The instruction period precedes each dance session for those not versed in the art of square dancing.

The executive board of the Westchester women's club will meet at 8 p.m., Nov. 12 at the home of Mrs. Sol Garber, 333 Westbourne court, to discuss the club's Christmas projects.

Ries of Anslow lane. She is attending the St. Joseph academy in Adrian.

Home from a three-week trip through the colorful west are the Frederick Olivers of Hickory Heights drive. During their scenic trip, they visited Rocky mountain national park, Boulder dam and cave of the winds near Colorado Springs.

Denver was another stop before returning home. Ron, in basic training at Fort Riley, Kan. Ron expects to leave for Fort Garden, where he will study cryptography.

Susan Tivy Anslow lane attended the Howe Military academy as the guest of David Fry of Berkley during the founders day weekend.

The Saturday began with drills followed by the afternoon football game and the formal dance in the evening. Accompanying Susan on the trip were Mrs. Owen Pope and friends from Berkley.

Chuck Simpson, son of the Sherrill Simpsons of Brethry drive, left last weekend for the U. S. naval receiving station at Philadelphia, where he will be spending the next two years. His previous training was with the reserves at the Grosse Ile air station.

Chuck listed the USS Independence and the USS Patuxent as his "dream sheet" in hopes of being assigned to one of them when they leave on a cruise to different parts of the world.

Mrs. David DeWitt hosted a luncheon in her Tutbury lane home honoring her mother-in-law, Mrs. Harold DeWitt of Jackson recently.

Two new Brownie troops have been formed at the Eastover school this fall. Brownie troop number 103 took place at the home of their leader, Mrs. John Whitehead of S. Reading road. The assistant leader is Mrs. Hal Zimmerman of S. Reading road. This troop is also made up of 12 girls of the Eastover third grade.

Another investiture ceremony for Brownie troop number 103 took place at the home of their leader, Mrs. John Whitehead of S. Reading road. The assistant leader is Mrs. Hal Zimmerman of S. Reading road. This troop is also made up of 12 girls of the Eastover third grade.

Judy and Chris Conrad of Square Lake road offered pictures and flags of the United Nations buildings to the Eastover school last week in celebration of the school's "United Nations week."

Mr. Cecil Conrad brought the collection home with him on his recent trip to New York, where he visited the UN building.

The Pot Luck club of Charnwood is not superstitious in the least as it planned the next evening out at the Sherrill Simpsons home on Brethry drive for Friday the 13th.

These bringing tempting and tantalizing dishes to the party will be the William Hentons, the Roger Blackwoods, the David DeWitts, the William Deweyes, and guest couple the Alec C. MacKenzies of Detroit.

Zone Suit Slated In Southfield

SOUTHFIELD — If an out-of-court settlement is not agreed on, a three-way court battle over proposed commercial zoning on Southfield near 12 Mile will go on trial in December.

Residents from Bedford Villas subdivision association have refused to agree with Southfield city and developers Lieberwitz-Lezell, Detroit, who have signed a settlement.

Attorneys are hopeful of getting the final settlement signed by residents. Circuit Judge William John Beck advanced proceedings last week so a trial could go on in December.
