"Over the river and through the woods to grandmother's house we go" has some variations in the Birmingham area this year.

For Thanksgiving dinner Mr. and Mrs. Clark Bennett of Westwood drive, are joining their son-in-law and daughter and two grandsons, the Edmund W. Burke family, in their home on Linden road. Mr. Burke's mother, Mrs. David Burke of Pleasant Ridge, is also expected.

The Bennetts' other daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Richard K. Schmidt, came from Chicago to spend last week end at the Bennetts.

The Schmidts were entertained Friday evening by the Nelson B. Nolands. Saturday evening, after having returned from the Michigan-Ohio State game with a large group of friends, they were entertained by the Junior George T. Trumbulls.

Among the above mentioned group attending the game together were the Edmund W. Burkes and their houseguests from Columbus, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Kaufman. Mrs. Burke and Mrs. Kaufman were roommates at Bradford junior college—while Mr. Burke and Mr. Kaufman knew each other at Lehigh university. It is a tradition for the two couples to attend the Michigan-Ohio State game together every year.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis S. Hubbard of Wixom, Mich., have invited for Thanksgiving dinner their neighbors of Oxford road, the John K. Bagbys, and Mrs. Hubbard's mother, Mrs. Sheldon R. Noble, of Henrietta street.

The Edward H. Lerchens are entertaining members of their family for Thanksgiving dinner at their home on Lowell court. The William G. Lerchens, Jr., will not be present. They are spending Thanksgiving in New York with their son, Bill, who attends Proctor school. The other children of the William H. Lerchens will have Thanksgiving dinner at the Edward Lerchens' home, as will the Maxwell E. Peas' children and the Robert W. Muzzys' children. Mrs. Lerchens' parents, the H. Gray Muzzys, of Gordon lane, will also share Thanksgiving day with this family group.

Thanksgiving will be traditional at the Henry Whittings' home on Lake Park drive, with places set at the table for children and grandchildren. Peter Whiting is expected from New York, and the Maxcaley Whittings and their six children will come from Midland. Mrs. and Mrs. Henry Whiting, Jr., and son Gordon, of Orchard Hill drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Aten and daughter Cathy plan to join in the family festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Delbridge, Jr., and daughter Florence of Hanna street, will spend Thanksgiving day in haste with his brother's family, the William M. Delbridges.

Mrs. Delbridge entertained the Kingswood school board members for coffee last Monday, at which time the date of the traditional Kingswood-Cranbrook Christmas formal dance was announced. It is to be Dec. 28, at Orchard Lake country club. Ronald Ballantyne and Mrs. John B. Dixon are co-chairmen of the dance.

The L. Gerald Robinsons' North Glenhurst drive home will be filled with activity on Thanksgiving day. They and their four children are expecting Mrs. Robinson's mother, Mrs. Don Homer, of North Glenhurst road, and Mrs. Robinson's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Scott, and their five children of Hartsdale road, Bloomfield Hills, and Mr. Scott's parents, the Fred Scotts, of Detroit.

The Robinsons and the Thomas T. Restricks of Amberg road, attended the Detroit Lions game last Sunday, after which they returned to the Restricks' home.

For Thanksgiving dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Mosher, Jr., of Harmon avenue, are entertaining his aunt, Mrs. Ida Manley, of Detroit.

The Junior Harry L. Winatons and their two children, of Lakeside drive, will spend Thanksgiving day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Winaton of Aspen road; and that evening they will visit the Junior Mrs. Winaton's parents, the L. C. Friedrichs, in St. Clair, Mich.

The Junior C. F. Dyes and their three children of North Glenhurst drive, will spend Thanksgiving with her sister's family, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Laughlin and two children in Park Forest, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas T. Stolberg of Pierce street, were surprised when son Larry, a first classman at Culver Military academy, announced that he would be home for Thanksgiving. This is the first time that Culver has given their students a Thanksgiving weekend.

The Stolbergs will have four other youthful houseguests, all fellow students with Larry: Jim Curd, of Bossier City, Louisiana, John Harrison of Lookout Mt., Tenn., Sam White of Westboro, Mass., and Floyd Buswell of Bermuda.

The Stolbergs and their guests are all going to have Thanksgiving dinner at the home of her brother and his family, the James M. Peabodys. Other members of the Peabody family will spend Thanksgiving day here also—the Robert Peabodys of Birmingham, the Clem Hoovers, of Capac, Mich., the Stanley Peabodys of Pesto, and Mrs. Stanley Peabody of Birmingham. The William Burgums of Birmingham, will also spend Thanksgiving day at the James Peabodys.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Kelley of Fairway drive, will have a family dinner for her mother, Mrs. John W. McCormick, and brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. McCormick of Berkley, Mich. Mrs. Kelley recently returned from a theatre tour to New York City.

For the first time, Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. McDonald of Lake Park drive, will not spend their Thanksgiving day together, but the occasion is a happy one. Not only have they been presented with their first grandchild, but "it" was twins. Mrs. McDonald is down in Fayetteville, N. C. with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson L. Bond II, the proud parents of Nelson L. III, and Sally Louise, born on Nov. 8.

Any reader who happened to drive down Lake Park last week will now understand why there was displayed in front of a certain house one pink, and one blue diaper.

After continuing in his attempts to contact their other daughter, Mrs. George Beach, in Japan with her husband who is in the Air Force, Mr. McDonald will spend (See NOTES, Page 3-C)
