60 Neighbors Negotiate New Heating Technique

BLOOMFIELD NORTH-CHALMERS LAKE—When more than 60 neighbors conspire to pull a surprise housewarming you can figure there's one house that has really been warmed! After last Saturday night the Frank Tullars' new home on Lakewood should be 'comfortable' enough to last the winter.

The Tullars arrived home after having dinner out to find more than 60 people—all neighbors who are members of Ridgecreek players of which Tullars is president—in the midst of an auction with auctioner, Louis Phillippe, doing the "what am I bid" act with a collection of the neighbors' white elephants. This was a little startling and certainly very surprising, but the Tullars almost flipped when Phillippe started auctioning their prize possessions such as Mrs. T.'s mink jacket, Lily Dugan's hat and a valuable collection of antique glass and china.

The last of the loot was 'sold' by midnight when the Tullars served an elegant breakfast for the guests of honor and presented them with a handsome gift for their recreation room.

The rest of the Tullars family, their dogs, Brad and Susie, received housewarming gifts too—for each of them a gorgeous hair mat, a rubber mattress made with cedar chippings and covered in a delicate pink and white ticking. Planning the housewarming were Mr. and Mrs. George Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Snook and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Henry.

WESTWOOD MANOR—Enjoying Thanksgiving day with friends will be Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Holing of Westwood court. They plan to spend the day with the Richard Hennes of Birmingham.

WING LAKE—Entertaining recently in honor of friends who will move to Paris were Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Brown of Wing Lake road. The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scates of Royal Oak.

Among those invited to the farewell party were Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Boukamp, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. David Huel, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Marriner, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Casseher, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Behler, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Weber.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. E. Greck, Mr. and Mrs. William B. France, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Roby, Mrs. Robert Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ross, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Roy.

LONE PINE VILLAGE—Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shepherd of Ranch lane for the past few weeks has been Mrs. Shepherd's mother, Mrs. H. H. Calmer, of Havelit, Ill. She plans to remain for the family Thanksgiving dinner tomorrow.

The Shepherd's other guests will be their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Harrington, Mrs. Shepherd's sister, Mrs. Winifred White and her niece and husband Mr. and Mrs. Jack Powell all of Joliet, Ill.

BLOOMFIELD VILLAGE—Mrs. Wayne E. Lindow of Covington Place invited several friends to be her guests last week at Pine Lake country club's first bridge party and fashion show in their newly completed clubhouse. Her guests were Mrs. George Walker of Bloomfield Village and Mrs. Char-LESMSLEIGH—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tanner have invited a group of friends to their home on Ardmore for cocktails and a buffet supper Saturday. The Tanners will be serving birthday cake and wedding cake for their guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. James Reid who will be celebrating their wedding anniversary and Reid's birthday. The Tanners have planned a family dinner for Thanksgiving day.

Thanksgiving dinner will be a festive occasion at the home of Dr. and Mrs. James Henderson of Oakleigh for they plan to have a jumbo sized turkey for all the relatives.

The family gathering will include Dr. Henderson's parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. T. Henderson of Greystone Pointe, Mrs. Henderson's brothers and their families, the Don Hensicks of Bloomfield Village and the Bert Hensicks of Howell, her aunt and uncle, the Rev. and Mrs. H. F. Hendrick of Dearborn and her father, Albert Hensick.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kollys of Lone Pine road are planning a family dinner party for Thanksgiving. Their guests will be Kollys' parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kollys and Raymond of Dearborn.

Designed for Doggie Dormitory

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—A dog's best friend is the person who dreamed up the best of making these two fancy doggie beds. Judging by cocker spaniel Fancie's expression, at least. Watching Fancie sample the beds made especially for the canine comfort of Brad and Susie, the Frank Tullars family's terriers, is Mrs. George S. Dixon of Dakota circle. She was one of the group who threw the housewarming party for the Tullars Saturday at their new Chalmers lake home. Fancie belongs to the Samuel E. Todde, of Pleasant Ridge, who were among the housewarmers.

BLOOMFIELD HEIGHTS—Traveling to Missouri to see their new grandson, Steven Craig, were Dr. and Mrs. S. P. Jenson of Sodon Lake road. They visited their daughter and son-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. John M. Roger in Warrensburg, Ill. Roger is stationed at Whiteham Air Force base.
