THE BILLBOARD

By Mike Zweig

'Old Familiars' Meet Again at B'field High

Another year has begun at Bloomfield Hills high school, and many old familiar faces greeted other old familiar faces on Sept. 10, the first day.

For over 200 tenth graders the high school was a change of atmosphere. The seniors are making college applications and worrying about their final year of high school. The juniors have no worries.

ALREADY CLASSES have been canceled twice for assemblies—once when a Fisher body representative spoke to the boys about car design and the Craftmen student body was pepped up at a pep assembly. The 1969 football squad was introduced and, that same afternoon, went out and downed Oak Park 18-0.

Then, on the following Friday the tables were turned when the Barons were outplayed by Brighton to the tune of 19-6.

For the first few days there was much talk of summer doings. Four of the present seniors spent the summer in Europe. Bill Thom toured with his family and returned with a crystal ball. The other three were sponsored by the Michigan Council of Health, and they spent many weeks in the area of Helsinki, Finland, where she stayed with a local family.

Meeting Starts Them Out on Right Feet

The very first Orientation assembly was held for the seventh grade students Sept. 10 in the Baruch auditorium. The officers of the Student Council explained the purposes and organization of the Student council at Barnum.

Bob Hunter gave the welcoming speech and introduced himself to the new students. The vice-president, John McCaughy, explained the honorarium elections of president, treasurer, secretary and the all important Student council representative of each honorarium.

SAFETY commissioner, Jack McDonald, told of his position on the council which is to help the principal and faculty in fire and emergency drills. Ann Norton, the secretary, explained her duties of writing notices of meetings and writing up announcements pertaining to the Student council.

The treasurer, Roger Ulrich, explained the book store and showed a fine display of the merchandise which can be purchased there.

Our prominent principal, Mr. Ford, conducted the opening ceremonies, and explained assembly procedure.

MR. TINDALL, the boys' counselor, discussed school activities in which the seventh-graders could take part.

The girls' counselor, Miss Bruns, told about the counseling system at the school. Mr. Vannetto closed the assembly with a few comments.

The master of ceremonies, Mr. Ladd, the Student council advisor. All in all, the orientation assembly turned out very nicely and we hope it will become an annual affair at Barnum.

FRANK STREET will be closed approximately two weeks for repairs. Parents have been requested to pick up their children on George street. It would be helpful if the parents would enter the east end of George street.

Activity tickets are being distributed to Barnum students this week. They cost one dollar for the year.

These tickets will enable students to enter all Barnum, Derby and Groves junior high school games. They will also enable them to see three basketball games, three football games and three swimming meets free.

Each of the high school games would cost 75c and each of the other high events 25c. The funds from these tickets will support

Plenty Spirit, But They Had Plenty More

By JUDY GOODE

Let's hope that our entire season won't follow in the footsteps of our first game. Holy Name played Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Sunday and lost to the blue and gold team. The score was 19-14.

Until after half-time it looked as if our team had a good chance of winning. Queen of Martyrs rose to the challenge of the one-point lead and made two successful touchdowns. In the last minute of the game our green and gold team made one touchdown. We lost by five points.

YOU'LL HAVE to admit that we tried. Our team recovered and intercepted many fumbles and passes. So did Queen of Martyrs! They just happened to recover and intercept more fumbles and passes than we did!

There were no serious injuries in the game. We had some players on the bench, however. Injuries were done mainly to the boys' morale. These, too, we do not feel are too serious.

Next week we play St. Mary's of Roseville. The game will be played at Booth Field. This will be one bright hope on the horizon during the week. We all hope the first game won't jinx the season.

RELIGIOUS instruction classes have started for children attending public schools. All students in public elementary and high schools attend these classes. High school students on Monday evenings and others on Saturday mornings.

St. Regis parish, a mission of Holy Name, is now in full swing. This combination school and church takes care of the overflow of children in grades 1-4. It also takes some people from the crowded Masses at Holy Name.

We thank the donors and builders of St. Regis.
