Southfield Officials Choose Design For City's Seal

SOUTHFIELD—Three top winners in the Southfield contest for a city seal were announced recently by Lawrence Institute of Technology and Southfield city officials.

Ed Keagy, 8165 Melvin, Garden city, who forgot to put his name on the first-place entry is now $60 ahead for his prize-winning design.

The second place $25 award went to Mike Walsh of Pontiac.

Terry Straka of Detroit, a 1926 figure, representing education, commerce and culture, are designed on the seal with the words, "City of Southfield, 'In God We Trust,' and 'Chartered April 28, 1958.'"

S'field Riverwoods Garden Club Sets Oct. 6 Meeting

SOUTHFIELD—The Riverwoods Garden Club of Southfield will meet at 12:30 p. m. Oct. 6 at the home of Mrs. Frank Weir, 24789 Samoset Trail. Mrs. John Campbell and Mrs. Irving Volkbrecht will act as co-hostesses.

William Phillips, who resides at Cass Lake and Pompano Beach, will show slides on "Gardening in the North and South by an Amateur."

S'field Studies Need For City Engineers

SOUTHFIELD—Southfield officials are studying the possibility of organizing a city engineering department, primarily to handle lateral sewer work connecting to the Englewood interceptor.

City Administrator Robert J. McNutt, a registered engineer, asked to be assigned to do all engineering.

He would need four additional assistants, he said, but would not receive a salary boost himself.

Councilman Otto D. Edwert said he felt the costed yearly salary to city engineers would cut SOUTHFIELD—The Angling road school PTA will entertain members and friends at a pancake supper from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Oct. 5 at the school.

Tickets will be sold by the sixth and seventh grade students and may also be obtained at the door.

The fall paper drive is scheduled Oct. 10. Starting at 10 a.m., papers and magazines will be collected at regular stops of the Angling road school buses.

Guest speaker for the Oct. 16 PTA meeting is Mrs. Helen McIntyre, coordinator of elementary education at the Southfield board of education. She will talk on report cards. A question-answer period will follow.

down profits in the future. McNutt told Edwards that the city "will be making and improving for years to come . . . there'll be lots of $1 million projects.

Two Persons Hurt In Auto-Truck Crash in Township

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—A Clawson woman and a Detroit man were injured Monday in an auto-truck collision at Square Lake and Franklin roads.

Gordon Meyers, 20, of Detroit, suffered a badly mangled right leg when he was pinned between his pick-up truck and an oncoming car driven by Mrs. Rose Marie Bell, 24, of 238 Highland, Clawson.

Mrs. Bell, who was thrown from the car into a muddy ditch, was treated for cuts and bruises on both arms.

According to Bloomfield township police, Mrs. Bell was driving west on Square Lake road when a car driven by 23-year-old Carol E. Ford of Lake Orion turned into her path from Franklin road.

Swerving to avoid hitting his car, Mrs. Bell lost control of the car.

Walnut Lake Gardeners To Celebrate Birthday

WALNUT LAKE—Members of the Walnut Lake garden club will celebrate the birthday anniversary of the club and past presidents day at a luncheon at Sylvan Glens Country Club, October 5, at 12 noon.

The three past presidents to be honored at the affair are Mrs. Ross Banker, Mrs. E. S. Maund and Mrs. Parker Rockwell. Each will give a resume of the events which took place during their term of office.

Later in the day, Mrs. L. We-mouth will conduct club members on a tour of the Clifton Flour Mills.

Members desiring transportation to Sylvan Glens should contact Mrs. William E. Loll, 5788 Middlebelt Road, who is also handling reservations for the luncheon.

WALNUT LAKE—Jewel Ofenstein, bride elect, was honored at a pantry and kitchen shower, September 30, given by Mrs. John A. Bell at her home on Comfort Drive.

A buffet luncheon was served from a table attractively decorated with pink flowers and a doll bride on a pink cloth.

Among the guests were Jewel's mother, Mrs. Julian Ofenstein and her grandmother, Mrs. Gus Ofenstein.

Jewel will become the bride of Charles Gray, of Albertville, Ala., on October 16.

WALNUT LAKE—Girl Scout troop 318, composed of eighth graders, was fascinated with a talk by Joan Trousteaud, of senior troop 300 at their recent meeting.

Juan attended the Girl Scout senior round-up held this summer in Colorado Springs and her talk was an interesting recounting of her experiences, together with colored slides taken on the trip.

Of particular interest to the group was the disposition of "swaps" contributed by several of the troops. Joan's "swaps" consisted of birch bark canoes which she exchanged with other round-up scouts.

The Colorado Round-up created so much interest among members of troop 318, that their current project, a fifteen minute radio and television program, will revolve around information furnished by Joan.

The girls are handling this project like professionals, having appointed a director-producer, writers, an announcer and a music director.

They received valuable information on the subject from a visit to Guest House and talks with WJL's Jack Kessler.

The troop spent September 26 at Camp Indianwood, near Lake Orion, studying a miniature set-up of the Colorado Springs round-up which was on exhibit there.

The girls held a regular meeting at the home of Barbara Brown, on Comfort Drive, September 26 with Wendy Nahabedian assuming her duties as the new president. Other officers are Barbara Hillier-vice-president, Pat Yagus, secretary and Ann Patterson, treasurer.

Mrs. James Steel, leader of the troop, announced that there is room for a few more eighth grade girls in the troop. Girls interested may contact Mrs. Steele at 6790 E. Dartmoor Road, or assistant leader, Mrs. William Yagus at 7302 Lindenmere Road.

WALNUT LAKE—Members of the Walnut Lake Women's club for a few more eighth grade girls on "Problem Children" at their Oct. 6 meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Frank H. Price, 6370 Westmoor Road at 8 p.m.

Sterling will show animated cartoons to illustrate his talk.

Tea hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Floyd Vine, Mrs. Lay L. Emlach, Mrs. John F. Byers and Mrs. William E. Loll.

Anyone interested in the Women's club program are invited to attend.

A tea, sponsored by the club, was given recently for the women of the area at the Old Orchard Drive home of the president, Mrs. W. L. McCane.

Plans are now underway for the club's annual Harvest Dinner, November 19, to be held at the (See DINNER, Page 7-E)
