Mary Jo Hopkins Wears White Velvet

Holy Name church was the setting Saturday for the marriage of Mary Jo Hopkins and Richard A. Griffith. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Hopkins of Roland drive, Bloomfield Village. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Griffith of Detroit.

The bride wore a gown of white velvet designed with a sabine neckline, edged in lace and seed pearls, long sleeves pointed over the hands, a fitted bodice and a full skirt ending in a chapel train. Her full-length veil was appliqued with lace. She carried white roses and stephanotis.

MRS. CHARLES Hopkins, sister-in-law of the bride, was the matron of honor. Attendants were Mrs. Thomas Hopkins, Mrs. Edmond Wolford and Mrs. Michael Griffith.

They were dressed alike in emerald green velvet dresses with a scoop neckline and short puffed sleeves. Bouquets consisted of rose chrysanthemums.

Michael Griffith, Jr., brother of the groom, served as best man. Seating the guests were David Griffith, Charles Hopkins, Thomas Hopkins and Robert Boyce. James Hopkins acted as junior usher. Blaine Hopkins served as ring bearer and Sandra Hopkins was flower girl.

FOR HER DAUGHTER'S wedding, Mrs. Hopkins chose a champagne chiffon and lace sheath dress with matching accessories and she wore an orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a rose lace dress with an orchid corsage. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was at Oakland Hills country club. The bride wore a gray wool dress with a white jacket and red accessories for a trip to the Pocono mountains. They will live in Detroit.
