Downtown B'ham May Get New 50-Star Flags

New 50-star flags for display in downtown Birmingham may be presented to the city soon, City Manager L. R. Gare said.

The city commission agreed to double the number of flags it now puts up and takes down on holidays in the central business area. Gare did not disclose the name of the service club which would donate the new flags.

Only about 60 flags have been displayed on six holidays each year.

Added to the display list were

Whatsamatter, No Nickels?

The Birmingham police department, plagued with people who would like to run things differently, recently ran into some exterior decorators.

Unknown parties apparently decided to liven up the parking lot on Ferndale between Hamilton and Oakland. They painted 12 meters bright yellow.

Mayor's exchange day in May, and the first day of the Birmingham arts festival in late spring.

Cars Killing 100 Persons Each Day

Traffic accidents took an average of more than 100 lives a day in 1948, according to the national safety council.

Most deadly day, the council said, is in its recently published statistical yearbook was Saturday.

Sunday was next most dangerous to motorists.
