

Marian Hi Committees and Chairmen New At New School

By CAROL JURICA

At last Wednesday's student assembly, chairmen for new committees were elected. These are the electees—Eucharistic committee—Jean Slavin; Our Lady's committee—Sharon Sem-powski; Catholic Press committee—Mary Peabody; Apostolic Missions committee—Cathy Conelli; and Parish activities—Carol Viale.

THE FIRST meeting of Marian's Student council was held last Wednesday, Oct. 7. The officers discussed such things as an open house for all the parents and relatives of the students to be held in about three weeks, and a tea for the mothers of the girls on a Sunday afternoon. Specific dates will be decided upon soon.

Marian's music room was opened last week, and put into use immediately. Since it is at the opposite end of the school, away from the other classrooms, the two-minute exchange period doesn't allow much time to get there. As a result, since most of the girls end up running the last few hundred feet to make it breathless but on time, we may end up with more track stars than accomplished singers.

News and Views Off the Record The singing groups are back again bigger than ever (seven groups). Leading the pack are Dion and the Belmonts who have increased their hit string now to five. This year, "A Teenager in Love" was a big hit for the boys, and now, "Every Little Thing You Do" is climbing the hit charts.

Frank Sinatra has a new album released that should follow in the footsteps of his past successes. The album, "Come Fly With Me" is very much like his "For Only The Lonely" album. As the title indicates, the album is mostly easy blues and ballads.

Another Columbia album released this month is that by Ray Conniff, "Conniff Meets Butterfield". Conniff's band backs up the great swing trumpeter, Billy Butterfield.

Back Again: Autumn and The Festival

By JOAN McDONALD

All attention this week has been centered on the preparations for the Autumn festival given by the class of '61, this Saturday night from 7:30 to 10:30.

Monday in assembly the juniors announced their theme: Harem Scarem is the title of the play which is based on a Persian romance between the sultan's son and a young girl named Chimene, played by Rose Mae Corbett.

THE COMIC leads are played by Alice Bushong as the sultan, Doris Smith as the sultan's sister, and Melinda Park as Chimene's mother.

Three extremely important festivals in connection with the festival are held by Joan Pape, the student director, Carrie Reed, the general chairman, and Gail Burgess, the stage manager.

The script committee, which wrote the play during the summer, was headed by Bonnie Cohen.

Nancy Reynolds and her committee are handing the tickets, while Jane Wiley, supported by her committee, is tackling the costumes. Margi Graves heads the make-up committee.

THE JUNIOR booth is under the management of Liz Buediger's committee. All the booths owe their names to Alice Bushong and her committee. Proprietors are in the custody of Melinda Mauck and Ann Bird, while lighting is being done by Roxanne Kinlaid.

Under the direction of its president Ginny Cross the "K" club elected the balance of its officers. The vice-president is junior Joan McDonald; the secretary, sophomore Chris Myers; treasurer, freshman Bonnie Cragin, and the eighth-grade representative, Ann Bussell.

Under these officers the "K" Club will carry out the duties of locker inspection, will sponsor on alternate weeks with the Cranbrook "C" Club the winter skating parties, will hostesses at the Hockey Play Day to be held at Kingswood, Nov. 7, and the Reg-Get-Acquainted dance in February.

Alice Bushong has been appointed by the Student cabinet to be its junior boarder member. Alice is replacing Vicki Seigrist who was unable to return to Kingswood this year.

Friday during assembly the new members of Kingswood's cheerleaders were announced. Joining Carol Yamasaki, Ann Foster, and Hanley Bird as cheerleading regulars are Pat Gauntlett, Karen Van Dellen, and Mary Mae Lamb. The new substitutes are Ann Bird and Dianne MacCormack.

The first varsity hockey game will be played Friday afternoon at Kingswood. The game is with Lawrence.

THE MEMBERS of the varsity's forward lines are Chris Norvell, Nancy Muhltner, Joan Akers, Mary Ellen Koebke, Joan McDonald, Sue Allen, Mary Love Russell, Raewyn Frear, Carlen Vogt, Sue Gass and Jeanne Buffum.

Those of the defense are Barb Beier, Pat Shile, Ginny Cross, Nancy Knorr, Sally Wecker, Jo Joy, Carol Thomas, Nancy Tamm, Betty France, Nancy Linn, Sue Crook, Martha Schroeder, and Joan Danto.
