Alley Closing Denied 2nd Time

For the second time in three weeks, Birmingham city commissioners have denied a petition to close an alley from Merrill to Townsend just west of Chester.

At the same meeting as their Sept. 28 denial, the commission reconsidered its action when it was suggested that area residents might desire seven other alleys also closed.

A city survey in the past three weeks shows abutting property owners on four alleys want the closing of their alley. At least one abutting owner objects to the closing of the other four alleys—including the one under formal hearing.

OFFICIALS DID give Mrs. J. A. Anderson permission to blacktop her half of the alley at her own cost and risk.

But the city will wait until owners formally petition for the closing of the other four alleys.
