Calling All Forest Lakers

Calling all Forest Lakers, "Come to the Ball!"... the president's ball that is on November 7. This will be the grand event of the fall season honoring Bernard Girard and his lovely lady.

An Evening of Dancing

Birmingham country club was the scene Tuesday of a dinner dance given by members of the Detroit club managers association to honor Richard H. Campbell, DAC's new manager, and David H. Ripper, Detroit club's new executive head, and their respective wives.

John T. Brennan of Birmingham country club was in charge of arrangements. Approximately 100 attended, among them Mr. and Mrs. Brennan, Charles R. Bangs of Bloomfield Hills country club and Mrs. Bangs; F. J. Large of Plum Hollow and Mrs. Large; William Wagner of Red Run and Mrs. Wagner, and Lowell Smith, Mr. Ripper's predecessor who retired after 44 years as Detroit club's manager.

Parties Around Town

Most people need a reason for a party... and the Village Players current public production "Third Best Sport," seems to be a good reason for many parties around town.

This Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Brown of Argyle are having 12 friends to dinner and then going to the Players to see the Etters in the play. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Martz of Wing Lake have invited the W. W. Peatties of Grosse Pointe and the Gray Farris to dinner and the show. Their daughter, Ellen, is coming home from the University of Michigan to join them.

Mrs. John B. Hollister is entertaining the C. W. Blennams, the C. L. Bouchards, the Nelson Tindalls, the Dominic Caputos and Gunnar George. The play will be repeated this Friday and Saturday, and following the final performance the cast party will be held with Mrs. Michael Remondino in charge.

Welcome Back, Mrs. Shain

Mrs. Ruth Shain of Pierce street, Birmingham, arrived here a week ago Tuesday from an extensive trip abroad, wearing a Paris ensemble in hues of blue and lavender. Leaving Birmingham several months ago, Mrs. Shain and a friend from California motored thousands of miles in a French Dauphine car in Europe. They went to Russia, where they joined a group of six for a bus tour.

After a shopping spree in Paris, she boarded a plane for New York City, where she attended a UN meeting. Home again, Mrs. Shain will continue her classes at the Community house, which meet every Tuesday morning at 10:30.

Home-Coming Time For Antique Lovers

It will be home-coming time for antique lovers when they return to shop at the Junior Goodwill antiques show and sale beginning Sunday at the Goodwill building, Brush and E. Grand boulevard.

Thirty eight dealers from many areas of the United States will have booths in the show. A world of rare and imported items for sale will be displayed, including a cherry and mahogany pie cupboard with a punched tin design inlaid on the door panels and a Pennsylvania Dutch lunch box decorated with hex designs.
