Yet only 25 per cent of motorists know and practically eliminate the need for time-consuming and expensive distress calls: Here are some rules almost every motorist has read but which few take the trouble to observe:
1. Rotate tires every 5,000 miles.
2. CHECK battery water every month or every 1,000 miles.
3. If you have a garage, keep your car in it when not in use.
4. Have an engine tune-up every 10,000 miles or oftener and have worn spark plugs and points replaced.

5. OIL filter cartridges (in cars equipped with them) should be changed every 5,000 to 7,000 miles.
6. Consult auto instruction book to determine that automatic transmissions are serviced at proper intervals.
7. Have undercarriage (and finish of car checked periodically for rust spots and touched up.
