Pine Hill to Treat Trickers At Spook Haven Rendezvous

NORTH ADAMS—The Pine Hill subdivision is holding its fifth annual Halloween parade and party Saturday for 250 children and parents.

The parade of witches, ghosts, supermen, fairies and what have you will join forces at 3:30 p.m. for the parade through the subdivision, ending up at the Spooks Haven (pump house) where bon fires will be blazing. There the little characters will be given noisemakers to give the event that musical tone.

Bill Shaefer of Grosse Pointe will put on a young demonstration to thrill the young and old alike. Dads donning their chef caps will cook and serve hot dogs, hamburgers and baked beans, for the crowd. The beggars will then depart to make their households, completing another memorable event in Pine Hill.

Mrs. Marc Hagerman, event chairman, is assisted by committee members Mrs. Earl Rohrbacher, Mrs. Thomas Riching, Mrs. Robert Brandon, Mrs. George Sold, Mrs. Marshall Potter. Other committee members are Mrs. Frank Charles Heinen and Mrs. Fred Watts, Mrs. Ransom Leech and Ross.

It Saved a Young Life

WE'VE BUILT ONLY ONE

This is a truly magnificent home, 90 feet long, built with custom perfection and totally unlike anything you have ever seen. You experience a feeling of warmth and contentment as you step through the double front door into a curved driveway. You'll find the 23 ft. formal living room, paneled in walnut and contrasted by a snow-white rockface. Behind the fireplace is a 17 room, paneled in walnut and contrasted by a snow-white rockface. Behind the fireplace is a 17 room, paneled in walnut and contrasted by a snow-white rockface. Behind the fireplace is a 17 room, paneled in walnut and contrasted by a snow-white rockface.

Left: We've built only one, but have four 115 to 240 ft. lots left in the Birmingham School District. Will custom duplicate this or some basic plan with 4 bedrooms, $33,950 full price this includes land, city water, sanitary sewers, paving, storms and screens, and many, many extras. Not furnished as this home has a charm all its own—a design so uniquely different that there is no need for furnishings to stimulate your imagination. Plan fully protected by copyright, and cannot be reproduced daily for a real treat in an unusual—then return on the weekend with the busy man of the family and the children.

CUSTOM BUILT BY WESTBROOK HOMES

Skeletons, scarieros and sinister characters lurked in shadowy corners of the streets all drive home of the Charles Dupuytas Saturday as they greeted costume-guests at the annual music-ade party.

Guests included the Don Stocker, O. H. Hittels of North Adams, the William Sadoski, Beverly Hills, the Edwina Kilburn, the Jack Goodners and the B. Biologans of Grosse Pointe.

Those looking for spine-tingling chills this Halloween only have to drive past the Thayer Cowman home on Lanegan drive. The Halloween scene there will put the scare into anyone who sees the nine-foot green-eyed bronze monster waiting to greet Halloween spirits.

All those Eastover school parents who feel they have some Sherlock Holmes in them will want to join in the fun of searching for mystery clues on the Nov. 7 "Treasure Hunt!"

Couples will meet in the Eastover schools multi-purpose room at 7:30 p.m. and will proceed on the hunt in groups of six. The hunt will end at Selvan Glen where a buffet supper will be served. Interested persons are to call chairman, Mrs. Selvan Glen, at 30—the cost is $5 per couple. Chairman is Clifford Roland of Ramsbury drive, Mrs. J. O. Ball of Clearwood, Mrs. H. G. H. of Highwood, Mrs. Hugh Carny of Sussex and Mrs. Walter Morris of Anslow lane.

"Christmas Decorations" is the topic of the Nov. 8, 8:30 p.m. meeting of the Orange Grove club. Mrs. Slawson teaches classes at the Birmingham community house and will pass along Christmas tips to her audience. The meeting will be held at the Lanegan drive home of Mrs. George Platter.

Highland Recreation was overrun with her scouts of troop 874, which will end at Selvan Glen where a buffet supper will be served. The group slept in tents and worked on many projects and activities. The patrol took turns at dishing out the home-cooked meals. Dads spending the weekend with the scouts were Don Richardson, Edwina Hooper, Gene Quackenbush, William Neuhuis, and scoutmaster, Roger Gaskill.

Mrs. Marc Hagerman, Mrs. Donald Burch of Pine Hill and Mrs. Clyde Kirk of Birmingham, were among the Delta Zeta sorority sisters attending the founders' day luncheon Saturday at the Hunter's Wood, Franklin.

Visiting the Thayer Cowmans of Lanegan drive this week are Mrs. J. C. Cowman, Mrs. Leon Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Gilberston, Mr. and Mrs. John Savanuzzi and their house guest, Mrs. Luella Binetti, of Torino, Italy.

Some of the exotic foods and custom to the party were sent from Honolulu by Mrs. Spomer's sister, Mrs. Charles Chambliss.

"Luncheon is Served" is the title of the bridge luncheon and bake sale by St. Joan of Arc's guild of the Holy Name church at noon Nov. 4 at St. Anne's Hall.

Mrs. John O. Vaughn is president of the newly formed guild made up primarily of women in the Westchester area.

Mrs. Kenneth Ouimette is chairman of the bake sale. Reservations to attend the golden wedding anniversary celebration of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. X. O'Regan, are being accepted.

Mrs. and Mrs. F. J. Matousek of Middlebury Lane will be in Cincinnati this coming week and to attend the golden wedding anniversary celebration of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. X. O'Regan.

The Matousek's daughter, Sharon, who is attending the College of Mt. St. Joseph on the Ohio will join her parents for the week end.

Youngsters in the Westchester party will attend a Halloween party this Saturday evening at guests of the Westchester Women's club. A parade will form at 6:30 p.m. at the intersection of Westbourne and Berkshire roads.

There will be prizes for unusual costumes and treats for all children. Tickets are being distributed to each child in the area to be presented at the refreshment stand at the close of the parade.

Cold weather doesn't freeze want ad's fast results.
