Recreation Round-Up

SENIOR MEN'S CLUB

Last Friday's October 23, repeat performance of the Senior men's club home talent show was a great success. The ballroom of the Community house was well filled, the audience consisting of the Senior ladies' club and wives and lady friends of the Senior men's club. An added feature of the occasion was the awarding of a cup to Roger Ingalls, the club's champion golf player and the awarding of a trophy to Earl Roy, the club's champion shuffleboard player. Next Friday, October 30, 15 men will journey to Detroit for a contest at shuffleboard and bridge with the Bushnell Retired Men's club. The usual business meeting will be omitted and the time given to Mrs. Joyce L. Beers' description of a recent cruise around the world. Mrs. Beers will illustrate her talk with slides. Mrs. Beers' talk will start at 10:30 a.m. The Senior men's club contestants and routers are to depart for Detroit at 11:30 a.m. Personal experience is the topic of the discussion group, which convenes immediately after lunch each Friday.

SIDELINES

discussed. All discussion stopped again when a man who looked like John Henry Johnson ripped off 32 yards to the Ram two-yard line and a quick check of the roster showed that it was John Henry Johnson.

A LION TOUCHDOWN brought a reverent silence to the room and nothing was accomplished till halftime.

During the intermission, one person interjected the thought that the Lions might win a game.

This was promptly poo-pooed and another fan returned his opinion in favor of the TV set as compared to attendance.

ONE PERSON, who has sat in various parts of Briggs Stadium during the football season, claimed the in-person attendance was much better than the TV since the real football fan would rather watch the whole game rather than what a studio director decided to show.

His point was proved when a roughing-the-kicker penalty was called against the Lions, but the camera was on the receiver at the other end of the field.

Another who attended the home games claimed that TV was far better and said that Terry Barr's interception was the clincher because he did not see a play that was similar in nature while sitting in the lower deck end zone seat.

THE LIONS scored another touchdown at this point and a stunned silence hit the room since it seemed the Lions had the game locked away.

When two defensive specialists named Yale Larry and Jimmy David broke up two long pass plays at the last instant, it was finally conceded that the home team would come off with a victory.

At the end of the game, one advocate of TV smiled gently and made his point that ended all discussion of the subject: "At least I won't be tied up in a traffic jam trying to get home."
