They're Set For School Year—Again
by JOAN McDONALD

Tuesday, Sept. 22 marked the official opening of the thirtieth year of Kingswood school. Girls were immediately plunged into the excitement of setting the school program under way.

This year eleven new teachers and dormitory counselors have been added to the faculty. In the dormitory Miss Elaine Dodge and Mrs. G. W. Zander are replacing Miss Bertha Seifert, who has taken a year's absence which she is spending in Africa, and Miss Therese Lenore Lan.

AMONG THE new students at Kingswood is the American Field service student Raewyn Frear from New York who is living with the Bethel B. Kelleys of Henley drive in Birmingham.

The class of 1950 found the first week filled with many exciting, new events. Wednesday was their first trip to the senior cabin, a small building entered only by seniors and faculty members who have been invited to attend. Nancy Wilcox is in charge of the cabin this year.

The Senior Ring ceremony took place on the first Friday. It was opened by an address by Jo Joy, the senior class president, who was followed by Abby Goldstein reading the poem traditional for "Kingswood." The rings were presented by Mrs. Edward Shike, mother of two Kingswood students, Pat, a senior, and Susan, an eighth-grader. The ceremony was followed by luncheon at Dever's Cafeteria.

THE FIRST social event of the year was Friday night, Sept. 25, in the form of an exchange dinner sponsored by the Student cabinet. The ninth and tenth grades of the two schools had dinner at Kingswood, while the eleventh and twelfth dined at Cranbrook.

Dinner was followed by a movie. On Saturday night the Cranbrook gym was the scene of the Get-Acquainted dance also sponsored by the cabinet.

The next week-end, Student cabinet arranged a picnic which because of rain was held in the gym. Supper was served at six. Dancing and some singing replaced the activities that would have taken place outside.

The juniors are working diligently on their autumn festival, Saturday, Oct. 17.

Object of student sympathy George Schrandt who tangled with some poison sumac on a field trip to Highland Recreation area recently.

Before the trip Schrandt spent a lot of time explaining to his students the dangers of contact with the shrub, then ended up the only one who was touched.

That SLOP drive last week netted a goodly amount for the '61 senior class treasury. SLOP stands for Save Lots of Paper and the drive was preceded by a Slop Hop. The students collected 58 1/2 tons of paper.

ADULTS INTERESTED in a Great Books course may still join the group meeting on Tuesday evenings at Southfield 10 school from 7:30 to 9:00. The first meeting was held this week.

Every now and then even the brightest students have moments of darkness. A Southfield senior collected a few of those bits for us.

The "Earliest Beginning," a picture about the prehistoric. One of the class answered, "The pictures were wonderful, but if the Earth was built three billion years ago, who was around to take the pictures?"

ANOTHER GIRL wrote about the scenes of dinosaurs (artistically and scientifically reconstructed). "I thought the dinosaurs were active. Why weren't they moving around eating each other up?"

On another test a boy claimed Eric the Green was the Viking who discovered the area known as Labrador.

In the math department two classes are listed: In reply to the question, "How many lines may be drawn through two points," One fellow answered, "It matters to the day we start wearing them, for the freshman class of '59-60 will be the first girls to wear the Marian uniform."

The girls of Marian offer their deepest sympathy to Nancy Herford of Marian High, whose father died unexpectedly last Friday morning. We're sure that many prayers were offered for the repose of his soul at Friday's Mass.

'How do You do?'

Raewyn Frear and Marcus Antonius deLucena, American Field Service exchange students, get acquainted at the Cranbrook Institute of science open house for Kingswood and Cranbrook school students. Raewyn, who attends Kingswood, is from Taupiri, North Island, New Zealand. She is residing with the Bethel B. Kelleys, 40 Henley, Birmingham. Marcus comes to Cranbrook from Niteroi, Brazil, and is living at the Syver K. Thingstad home, 232 N. Williamsbury, Bloomfield township.

No Incumbents; They Elected NEW Officers
By CAROL JURICA

Many elections have been taking place lately at Marian, because at a brand new school many offices must be filled. Nominations for student spirit-pantry prefect took place Oct. 1. Nominees were Marilyn Golar, Rosaleen Taunt, Judy Larky, and Lucy Lambie. Monday, the student officers were elected by ballot. The lucky girl is Rosaleen Taunt.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 30, Margaret O'Reilly was elected Student Council president. Pat Flaherty was runner-up and to quote Pat, "I couldn't have lost to a nicer girl in the school." We all agree. Friday, Oct. 2, the Marian girls held Mass for the first time in the brand new chapel. Mass was said at 11 a.m., fourth period, by Fr. Geary, the high school chaplain and student advisor.

Marian's sodality is in full swing under the direction of St. Richard Mary, religion teacher. The girls have made many suggestions for the new club and can't wait to get down to work. Officers will be elected soon for the newly-formed Sodality of Mary.

WHEN ASKED for a statement recently, Mother Thomas Aquinas, principal said: "In addition to the social and spiritual aims of the Student council and Spiritual council, both the organizations furnish opportunities for training in leadership which is one of the objectives of Marian high school.

The Marian High girls have been discussing and wondering about the school uniform. They finally got word of what the uniform will look like and are very excited.

Three different possibilities were put on display in the bookstore and one of them will probably become Marian's permanent school uniform. Though no one knows yet for sure, the uniform will probably be a royal blue blazer and blue plaid skirt.

WE'RE ALL looking forward

The Student Council met October 5. The advisor, Mr. William Ladd, explained parliamentary procedure to the members.

Jim Steiner was elected sergeant-at-arms and Brooke Hincley was appointed chairman of the Health Committee. All in all, the first meeting proved to be very successful.

DON'T FORGET! School will not be in session Friday, October 16, because of the Michigan Education association convention. School will reopen Monday, Oct. 19, at the usual time, 8:15 a.m.

Radio workshop will put on the next few weeks radio workshop will put on a few broadcasts.

Barnum's football season began Wednesday afternoon in a thrilling game between Barnum and Derby at Pierce field. Derby was defeated 12-0 with Barnum's winning touchdowns scored by Dave Patton and Don Spencer.

BARNUM'S classrooms and halls are colorfully decorated with classroom projects including current events and posters celebrating Constitution week.

Room 214 is decorated with posters and geography projects. The special education room is attractive with spatter-prints, and contains the students are making themselves.

They are also hoping to make a Michigan flag. By this means they are hoping to increase hand-skills and appreciation for beauty.

PROJECTS FOR future meetings are the basis of the Honor societies' forward-looking plans, as discussed at their last meeting. Bi-Hi, Barnum girls' athletic club, opened its first meeting Oct. 1, by selecting officers.

They are as follows: president, Janet Morley; vice-president, Brooke Hincley; and secretary, Marcia Hutchinson.
