Parties and gayety dominated the social scene over the Labor Day weekend. At their Rathen road home in Bloomfield Hills, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Poole gave a garden party Friday including cocktails, buffet dinner and dancing.

Honor guests were former Birmingham residents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bodd, from Charlottesville, Va., who spent the weekend with the Pooles and are now houseguests of the George C. Booths of Bloomfield township.

The Pooles' 13-year-old daughter, Kathy, also had a houseguest, as the Budd's daughter, Virginia, the same age, accompanied her parents.

Guests were greeted by the Pooles in their patio, complete with fountain, and then walked to the garden where a huge green tent with green and white striped awning sheltered tables decorated with pink cloths, flowers and individual candles. Additional lighting was furnished by paper bag lanterns around the garden's edge and tree lighting. Strolling musicians played during the cocktail and dinner hour and later provided the music for dancing.

Saturday evening the John W. Richardsons, of Bennington road, Bloomfield Hills, entertained in honor of the Budds at cocktails before the Bloomfield Hills country club dinner dance.

Guests were the Pooles, the Booths, Mr. and Mrs. S. Perry Williams, Mr. and Mrs. R. Jamison Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Rothman, Mr. and Mrs. Parbury Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. James O. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Trix, Mr. and Mrs. Roger M. Kyes, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin D. Andis and Dr. E. Hammond.

Other guests of the Richardsons were the Junior Lewis J. Columbus, the Theobalds, the Vintennas, the William D. Downey, the John S. Kerrs, the David W. Lees and the E. J. Andersons.

Also entertaining before the Bloomfield Hills country club dinner-dance were Mr. and Mrs. Dale D. Douglas of Hillwood road in Bloomfield Hills. Their guests were the Haywood Johnsons, the Robert Maxwell, the Philip H. Fretzen, the Robert W. Englemans, and the Charles Armstrongs.

The Gordon H. Robertsons of Waddington road, who, with daughter Joan, just returned Saturday from a ten-day vacation at the Broadmore hotel in Colorado Springs, asked a small group over before the dinner-dance at the club.

Another Saturday evening gathering in the Hills was at the Country Club drive home of the M. W. Burgesses. Their guests celebrated the birthday of her sister-in-law, Miss Lucille Burgess, of Royal Oak, at a family dinner party. Accompanying Miss Burgess from Royal Oak was Mrs. E. Haberkorn. Also present were the Burgesses' son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Torgerson, with son Tommy, from Woodland street. Other guests were from Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Pedder had a small group for buffet dinner Friday at their Herwyn road home. Guests were close mutual friends the Pedders and the Richard M. Thorburns, of Overhill road, who have Mrs. Thorburn's brother, Peter Hill, visiting with them from Australia.

Sunday was also a popular day for parties. Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Lynch had friends over for an outdoor "brunch" at their Covington road home. A green tent over individual tables matched the green lawn furniture.

Mrs. Lynch's nephew, Stephen Earl, and his friend, Jack Kitzmiller, both medical students at Indiana university, are houseguests of the Lynches.

Also on Sunday, Mrs. Lou Whirl had cocktails and buffet supper outdoors for 25 guests at her home on N. Glenhurst drive.

Clubs attracted many area families over the weekend. Dr. and Mrs. George P. Raynolds of Toontown lane spent the weekend on their boat at the Old Club, where a cocktail party was held for members Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Thomas, of Tooting lane, took the Saturday night dance at Oakland Hills country club and took their three children to the Labor Day swimming races. Accompanied by Mrs. Thomas' mother, Mrs. A. H. Meyer, they all had returned last week from a vacation in Vanderbilt, near Gaylord, Mich.

The Lester A. Colmans of Rathmor road and the C. Walter Fredericks dined together at the DAC Saturday night.

On the Bloomfield Hills country club course Monday, eight Birmingham area couples engaged in a private golf tournament, after which they enjoyed a pot luck supper. Participants were the Benjamin W. Jaynes, the S. E. Gawnes, the John S. Kerrs, the Richard Stricklands, the P. I. Gagniers, the Ronald Brights, the John Blomquist and the William A. Reids.

The Birmingham Athletic club had Labor Day swimming races and tennis tournament finals. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Mathaei, Jr., and family of Covington road attended, as did the Frank T. M. Loud family, of Villa road.

The Louds had just returned from Okocoda, where they spent the month of August at the family cottage (The Stewart N. Louds, of Oakland street spent the month of July there.)

Mrs. William Denby (Mrs. Fran Loud's mother) of Huntington Long Island, is visiting for a very special reason—the baptism of 4-month-old Francis Loud, which took place Sunday at Christ Church Cranbrook. The baby's godparents are Ozzie Powell and Mrs. Frits Strong III. The Louds invited the godparents and members of the family for lunch at Orchard Lake country club Sunday, following the ceremony.

The Clifford B. Wests, of Lone Pine road, had their share of activity last week as a book well earned rest over the Labor Day weekend. A week ago Sunday they gave a tea for approximately 70 guests in honor of their son, Michael Shaleros, and his bride of two months.

Other guests were the bride's mother, Mrs. Bruce Smith, and brother, Alexander Smith, all from Elkridge, Md.

At four houseguests and a party of 70 people weren't enough, daughter Jill Shaleros, who is a very student group of the European hospital) to be a houseguest.

Also arriving unexpectedly from Woodstock, N. Y., were friends Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Currie plus their daughter and their dog. Other surprise houseguests were Mr. and Mrs. Sigmund Porwin from Evanston, Ill. There were 11 for every meal throughout the week.

In addition, they had to pack their son, John Shaleros, off for Putney, Vt., last week.

The Labor Day weekend brought some members of families home and sent others away. Tom Lee, son of the David W. Lees, of Pembroke drive, Bloomfield Hills, returned from Finland. Sponsored by the Council of Churches, he stayed with a Helsinki family of six children, whose father is an architect and whose mother is a teacher and drama critic.

David Lee is going back to Brown university.

Ann Shenefield, who has spent the summer with her parents, the John W. Shenefields, of Battle Creek road, Bloomfield Hills, has left for Denver, where she will do research work in the field of emotional disturbances at the University of Colorado Medical center.

Her brother, who has been working with an architectural firm in Boston this summer, came home to see Ann before she left, and before he returned to Harvard.

Mrs. Winston T. Kelllogg is back home on Northland road after a trip east with daughter Emily to visit schools. While in New York they visited another Kelllogg daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Uhry, who live in Greenwich Village. Mr. Uhry, a lyricist, has written a score which Harry Belafonte is about to record.

Mrs. Kelllogg and Emily also being assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Neumann, Jerry Neumann and Mr. and Mrs. David A. Brennan.

Clubs and members of the various music clubs, in surrounding communities will attend the school.

Music Clubs Plan Therapy School

The Michigan Federation of Music Clubs will hold a one-day school for music therapy volunteers Friday at the Northville State hospital.

The school will be held in cooperation with Michigan State university under the instruction of Robert F. Unkefer, assistant professor of Music and psychology.

Volunteers in music therapy serve at Ann Arbor and Dearborn veterans' hospitals, Northville and Pontiac State hospitals and Wayne General hospital. Activities include private lessons, directing ward sings and providing musical instruments, sheet music and records.

Mrs. Ralph Curtis, president of the Michigan Federation of Music (other relatives live), and Fairfield (where they visited former Birmingham residents, the Junior Joseph J. Pages).

This week, Connie Kelllogg is going to New York to visit her sister, Mrs. Uhry.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack U. Klarr have just returned from Gull Lake, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lange of Battle Creek. The two couples were among a group who went to Europe together last winter.

St. Dunstan's Guild of Cranbrook is planning its opening function of the season for Sunday, Sept. 13. The pavilion will be decorated in Fall colors. Football is the theme of the party.

Officers' names (representing the first teams) will be up on the stage, as if on the backs of their blankets. On the walls will be footballs, marked with coming events of the St. Dunstan's season. In keeping with the football theme, the membership is requested to bring new prospective members for the team.

Entertainment, co-chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Frank Macarney, are being assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Neumann, Jerry Neumann and Mr. and Mrs. David A. Brennan.
