Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills Society Notes

from Nancy Porter
MI 4-2880

Quite a few Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills walls have been made bare as a result of the Bloomfield Art Association's Instructors' Exhibition. Some of our area artists have asked permission to borrow their works from the people who now own them. The exhibit at the Bloomfield Art Association on North Woodward avenue will last for three weeks.

Clifford B. West is showing two paintings of his own, one of which usually hangs in the bedroom and one in the living room of his Long Pine road home.

He is also borrowing some of his works to show a gouache owned by Peter Schwetz at Cranbrook, a drawing owned by Marion Goodale of Kingswood school, and a painting entitled "Rodeo," owned by Dr. J. Donald Sheets of Detroit.

Mildred Williams of Bloomfield court is showing "Child With a Shell," which was shown at the Michigan Artists exhibition three years ago. From Dr. and Mrs. Cecil D. Conrad's home on Squaw Lake road, Miss Williams has borrowed portraits she painted of Judy and Chris Conroy from the Brookside drive home of the Max H. Fruhauf, three portraits: one of Mrs. Fruhauf, and two of the Fruhauf sons, Andrew and Ennis. From the Roger G. Cudinis' of Lahser road, a portrait of Mrs. Cudinis with a bright scarf around her shoulders. The Cudinis, incidentally, recently returned from Europe.

Kathleen Birch of Harmon street, who returned from Arizona in time for the opening of the BAA fall season, is borrowing two of her paintings for the exhibition, one from Mrs. Dale G. Miller and one from Mrs. Lillian Hoppin.

Among the Birmingham area women present were Mrs. Thos. T. Restrick, president, and the Mesdames William C. Restrick, Jr., Donald H. Ashley, John T. Martin, L. G. Robinson, George H. Souter, Charles S. Himehoach, Lina Llewellyn, and Edward Dore.

Purpose of the meeting was to discuss their forthcoming theatre party Oct. 12. The group is taking over opening night of "The Visit," starring the Lents. Although it is a benefit for the Detroit Symphony, the tickets are to be sold at regular boxoffice prices and will be made available to the public.

Many families have recently returned from vacations in Northern Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sanders of North Woodward avenue, returned last week from Harbor Springs. Mr. and Mrs. Templin R. Lick, director of Faculty Row, Bloomfield Hills, summered at Northport, where they have been building a beach house on their recently acquired property on Lake Michigan. They kept their sail boat moored nearby. Mr. and Mrs. L. Gerald Robinson and their four children, of N. Glenhurst drive, returned last week from the family cottage at Osceola.

winter to visit another daughter. The Gillette and Mrs. Davis spent the Labor Day weekend at their cabin at Lewiston, Mich., where Mr. Gillette went trout fishing.

The Robert R. Nadal family of Dorchester road, spent the summer weekend, Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. William R. Yaw gave the rehearsal dinner for their son, James, who was married Saturday to the former Mary Jane Lemke.

The Nadala's gay red and white tent is of a new design chosen by the State department for display at the Brussels World Fair. With their air mattresses and sleeping bags, and a children's inflatable wading pool for their children, they had all the comforts of home.

Bloomfield Hills Country club was the scene for two parties last weekend. Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. William R. Yaw gave the rehearsal dinner for their son, James, who was married Saturday to the former Mary Jane Lemke.

Saturday evening the George W. Walkers of Woodberry drive, entertained 30 couples at the club for a formal dinner-dance. Guests sat at small tables, each decorated with its own white flower arrangement and cathedral candles.

Purpose of the party was to welcome friends home from their vacations.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Lerchen are giving a cocktail party this Sunday at their home on Lowell court, Bloomfield Hills, to celebrate a very special event—their 14th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Lerchen's parents, the H. Gray Muzys, of Gordon lane.

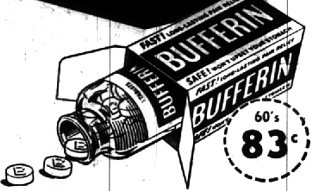

Mrs. Lerchen's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Muzy, are coming from Weston.

Conn., to join in the festivities. Mrs. I-wrence Langdon of Cincinnati, Ohio, housewife of the Gray Muzys, will also be at the party. Sixty other guests, all old family friends, will find themselves

Another group that met last week was the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony orchestra. Mrs. Harry J. Norderlander was hostess to the group last Thursday evening at her home on Pilgrim road.

Among the Birmingham area women present were Mrs. Thos. T. Restrick, president, and the Mesdames William C. Restrick, Jr., Donald H. Ashley, John T. Martin, L. G. Robinson, George H. Souter, Charles S. Himehoach, Lina Llewellyn, and Edward Dore. Purpose of the meeting was to discuss their forthcoming theatre party Oct. 12.
