We're Having Less Accidents Today

Man is safer from accidents today than he was 35 years ago. The national safety council discusses the increased safety of the people of today in its recently published statistical yearbook.

In 1958, the council booklet shows, 91,000 Americans met accidental death—only 1,100 less than the 1923-32 average of 92,100. It's more impressive, though, when the rapid population growth since 1930 is considered, the council pointed out.

Thirty-five years ago there were 77.4 accidental deaths for every 100,000 people in the United States. Last year there were 52.5 deaths. 848 Madison, Birmingham. He is a member of the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit at the University of Missouri.

Want $1 Million From Wooster College Alums

WOOSTER, Ohio.—Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards have been named co-captains of an organizing group which will campaign for funds among the alumni of The College of Wooster. It was announced recently by the college. The campaign is about to begin.

The goal of this drive among all Wooster alumni is $1,000,000, proceeds of which will be used to refurbish and renovate Kauke Hall, principal classroom building on the campus, it was announced.

THE MILLION dollar campaign is a part of the school's larger $20,000,000 campaign culminating in 1966, 100th anniversary of the college.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards reside at 1010 Washington boulevard, Birmingham. Edwards is employed as a member of the Labor Relations staff of General Motors corporation.

Edwards graduated from Wooster in 1950. Mrs. Edwards was a member of the class of 1952. Both Mr. and Mrs. Edwards are active in the Northminster Presbyterian church. Mrs. Edwards is in the Women's association and the choir; Mr. Edwards is a Sunday school teacher. Mrs. Edwards sings in the Birmingham Music

Driver Is No. 1 Accident Cause

What causes traffic accidents? Bad weather? Brake failure? Fatigue?

None of these in themselves, according to the national safety council. The No. 1 cause of traffic accidents, it says, is the man behind the wheel.

That's clear from recent council studies which show there were 77 violations for every 100 drivers in fatal traffic accidents. Many drivers violated more than one law.

The violations that occurred most often: speeding, failure to keep right of the center line, not having right-of-way and driving under the influence of alcohol.

OTHER VIOLATIONS: following too closely, improper passing, improper turning, failing to signal, disregarding stop signs and improper parking.

Modern cars and specially designed superhighways are fine, of course," the Council said. "But the key to the traffic accident problem lies with the driver himself."
