SOCIETY NOTES

Dehi and Bombay and other Indian cities. They visited some friends from Pointe aux Barques who now live in Taipei. Leaving their boat in Japan, they flew to Hong Kong, then Saigon, Vietnam, Singapore, Pakistan and Bankok. Their tour also included Italy and Egypt.

ONE OF THE most interesting aspects of traveling on a cargo liner is, of course, some of the unusual items the boat transports. Their boat delivered three diesel engines to Pakistan—the last of a gift of several such engines from the United States to the Pakistan government. Quite a celebration was made of their delivery. They are on the route back was an antique street car placed on the boat in Naples, Italy, and delivered to somebody in Boston, Mass.

If any column readers happen to know someone in Boston who collects antique street cars as a hobby, please let us know who it is and why he does it. This columnist has "caught" the curiosity of the Taylor, who looked at that street car every day, just wondering.

Newcomers Here

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Pratt are hoping that their new living room furniture will arrive before they are visited on May 1 by Mrs. Pratt's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Monteverde of Sacramento, Calif.

The Pratts have just recently moved from Sacramento into their home at 610 Ridge road. Mr. Pratt is sales manager for Shelterproof Glass Corporation. Their children are John 13, and Kathy 11. Although decorated apothecary jars (one of Mrs. Pratt's hobbies) are pretty to look at, a house filled with them and lacking furniture is not a home, according to Mrs. Pratt.

Houseguest

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Martin Jr. of Echo road have a houseguest this week. Mrs. Martin's mother, Mrs. F. M. Huffman, of Bethlehem, Pa., who will divide her time between Mrs. Martin and her other daughter and son-in-law, the J. F. Strings, Jr.
