

Susan Marie Brennen Weds Foorman Mueller

Susan Marie Brennen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. John Brennen of Yorkshire road, Birmingham and Foorman Lloyd Mueller, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Foorman of Hinsdale, Ill., were united in marriage Saturday evening at St. James Episcopal church, Birmingham. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Kenneth H. Gass.

The bride's gown was fashioned of silk organza and silk bombazine with a fitted bodice, scoop neckline and long pointed sleeves. The circular skirt of silk organza, bordered with silk bombazine and encircled with a piquette of embroidered American lace, was presented with a chapel train. Her lace cap was imported from France and attached to a fingertip silk illusion veil. She carried gardenias, stephanotis and ivy.

THE BRIDE'S SISTER, Mrs. Demosthenes J. Booth of Banbury road, Birmingham, was the matron-of-honor. She wore a shell pink organza gown with crushed bow headpiece and matching accessories. Her flowers were a crescent arrangement of Burma Glanellias. Bridesmaids Sally Lynne Goodsmith of Grose Pointe Woods, Lynne Betts of Detroit, Suzanne Allen of Birmingham, Elizabeth Baker of Beverly Hills and Mrs. A. John Brennen, Jr. of Mercer Island, Wash. were given to match that of the honor attendant, Mrs. Brennen, Jr. is the bride's sister-in-law.

The groom's father, Foorman Lloyd Mueller, was his son's best man. Guests were seated by Demosthenes J. Booth of Birmingham, Thomas J. McColloch of Western Springs, Ill., A. John Brennen, Jr. of Mercer Island, Washington, brother of the bride, Emory Ollcott of Hinsdale, Ill. and Carroll Springs of Dayton, Ohio.

Mrs. Brennen chose a linden-green lace sheath and matching in-

Trip to Europe Becomes 'Package Tour' for Her

FOXCROFT—A look at all the packages arriving daily from Europe at the home of Dr. Paul Surrey makes you wonder if their daughter, Mike, toured Europe for three months or went for an extended shopping spree.

According to Mike it was a grand tour, but she just could resist a bargain so she bought a little of everything she might be needing for years to come—linens, china, furniture and even a wedding veil and baby silver—(Mike is NOT engaged—but she's lovely.)

Mike and a friend, Charlotte, came in from England where they spent three months touring Europe. They visited all the countries that most European tourists visit and many, such as Stockholm and Oslo, where most tourists don't visit. In fact, the only places they didn't tour were Luxembourg, Portugal and half of Spain.

Traveling by train provided many adventures. They often took the wrong train by mistake and thoroughly enjoyed such surprise visits. A highlight of the trip for Mike came in England where she stayed with relatives Mike had never before met.

Traveling in the west for a month recently were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kershaw and their son, Ricky. East Surrey, California was their destination and they motored leisurely through the South Coast area with stops for sight-seeing.

California they spent two weeks with former Foxcroft residents, the Frank Grisantis, they toured all the National Parks and enjoyed three days in Las Vegas.

Travelers will arrive Sunday to spend a month with the Kershaws. They are Kershaw's mother, Mrs. John D. Kershaw of South Carolina and Miss Ella Kershaw of Chicago.

Camping in Canada and living the life of nomads for the past three weeks were Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Gadd and their children, Skipper, Susan and Kathy of Meadow Way. They followed the St. Lawrence Seaway all the way to the Gaspe Peninsula stopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bull and their three children of Bradley boulevard, are home after spending the summer in California. They left as soon as school closed in June and spent most of the summer with Mrs. Bull's parents in Arcadia. They also visited her sister in San Marino.

The R. E. Brattons moved from their Wooddale court home last Friday to their new Gilbert Lake home on Lane Lake road. Not even waiting to settle their belongings they left Saturday to spend a few days in northern Michigan arriving back at their new home yesterday.

The Brattons' daughter, Marilyn, has returned home after spending the summer as a counselor at Interlochen, Virginia has also returned after four weeks at Camp Huntington on Wallon Lake.

Mrs. Carson B. Harman of Glenary circle had her daughter, Mrs. Edmond Leavenworth, give the spinster dinner Aug. 18 at Mrs. Harman's home for Miss Betty Milligan who was married Saturday.
