The CHRISTMAS TREE

Have you ever paused while trimming the tree—and wondered from whence came the custom of moving a tree from the woods into the home and decorating it with gleaming balls and lights?

Four hundred odd years ago, Martin Luther, the leader of the Reformation, while returning home one beautifully clear, cold Christmas Eve, lifted his eyes to the dark sky in contemplation. He saw that thousands of stars seemed to be clinging to the branches of the lofty pines by the wayside. His first thought was to share this inspiring spectacle with his family. . . . That night a glittering tree blazing with star-bright candles was Luther's gift to his loved ones. . . . and his gift to all the world.

THE TREE IN OUR STORE—
It is not like Martin Luther's tree but it is quite OLD FASHIONED—being trimmed with popcorn strings, cranberry pears, candy canes and sticks, popcorn balls, rock candy, cookies—most of which (at the lower levels) may be eaten by the small fry (and probably will be)—and other matchless baubles.

You are invited to eat—or rather to see and enjoy it.

BE OUR GUEST—
Behind the tree, in other parts of the shop, you will find—not necessarily unusual, but certainly different—things with which to complete your Christmas list. For instance, there are:

OPHIA LAMPS burning peanut oil or other vegetable oil and performing beautifully at a "dinner for four" on the terrace. These 41 1/2" brass lamps provide only light.

GRASS PLATE MATS in deep colors with napkins in rich prints will make your Christmas tables gay. For a few there are lovely sprays—also some napkin clips in holly or mistletoe. These sprays and clips may be used on your own mats.

There are just a few—and they are choice.

RIBBON TREES & CANDY CANES are so dainty you refrain from touching them—but, you will. One of the most Christmasy of Christmas decorative pieces. (This one would never get past MacMamas, John & Adams.)

IRON LANTERNS in black iron or a rich brown rust; not dainty, but very oriental and the rust is real—it rubs off on you.

QUAINT, PINY, ADORABLE ANGELS and other OUAINT, PINY, uh, figures from faraway Austria. Up to 14" high. Lead or Q. P., or A. teach to almost any small arrangement you may make or have. (We think this is a great paragraph to come from the pencils (Birmingham Office Supply—No. 245) of a couple of engineers who write this stuff.) If you wish to complete address it to W. Z.—pat to J. B.

DIAMOND BALL—another name for which is Good Luck Ball. Of Chinese origin they are as different as difference can be. Colorful, small, charming. A very few were acquired for your insatiable thirst for the "different."

THE REST: What shall we mention? Well, for one thing:

MRS. FRANK WEBB will be with you again (if you come) on DECEMBER 17th. Her demonstration will help you complete, CORRECT and COMPLETE (if you have the gumption) whatever you wish to develop for your Christmas decorations. This is an opportunity that people in other areas are denied because THERE IS NOBODY ELSE LIKE ANNA BELLE WEBB!

Coffee and Christmas cookies will be available for the day off the McClellan-Ball Patio.

Life insurance service... a matter of teamwork

"Teamwork" between the company and its representatives has earned for Manufacturers Life a reputation for a high standard of service to policyholders. The company provides a wide variety of modern life insurance and pension plans, backed by assets of more than $887,000,000. Its progressive underwriting practice has enabled many people with medical impairments to obtain the benefits of life insurance.

But sound plans and liberal practices are only the starting points for a high standard of service. The Man from Manufacturers plays a vital role in "tailoring" this top quality life insurance "material" into practical programs of security for his clients. He is trained to help you determine your specific needs for life insurance—which plans best suit these needs—and how much coverage is enough. He's at your service on all life insurance matters.
