Smooth pocket flaps on a coat or jacket when you hang it up, says Bernetta Kahabka, clothing specialist at Michigan State University. She says the flaps take on wrinkles when left partially tucked in a pocket.

If you have a view of nothing but house tops or neighbors' back yards, you might consider a solid board fence of western red cedar, which has charm and will block out unsightly views.

KINGSWOOD SCHOOL Schedule Crammed With Yule Activities

By BETSY WRIGHT Special Writer

Although Kingswood vacation begins today, the last week has been crammed with many yuletide activities. On Friday the school was treated to a musical assembly by the seventh and eighth grades.

ON Saturday, the Kingswood-Cranbrook Student Cabinet sponsored the annual Christmas party for handicapped children. This year Kingswood was hostess to about 30 children from the Madison district school.

They were entertained with games, Christmas carols, a puppet show by Schriver, Santa Claus distributed dolls and airplanes to every boy and girl. The dolls' clothes were hand-made by Kingswood girls and several Cranbrook boys assembled the model planes.

Assisting the cabinet members as hosts and hostesses were six representatives from both schools. The Kingswood hostesses were seniors Joan Anderson and Martha Schroeder and juniors Marietta Derwin, Jane Leader, Chris Myers and Pam Thatcher.

THE MESSIAH was presented at Kingswood on Sunday evening. Under the direction of Mrs. Lois Chapman of Kingswood and Robert Bates of Cranbrook, the joint glee clubs gave a very impressive performance in the auditorium. It was enjoyed by many parents and friends.

FOLLOWING THE special Christmas luncheon and the annual Christmas assembly—planned by the Student Council on Tuesday—the school prepared for dismissal at noon today. We'll return on Jan. 11.

DERBY Homerooms Help With Yule Treats At Derby

By NANCY PRICE Special Writer

Many homerooms at Derby are preparing to help others who are less fortunate than they at Christmas time. This is being done through a bake sale by room 108; the preparing of baskets of food, clothing, and toys, by rooms 103, 218, 219, 204, 207, and the cafeteria.

Rooms 217, 220 and 221 are making Christmas decorations while rooms 200 and 202 are having a bake sale with profits going to "Care."

Many classes are going to have special "treats" from their teachers. Mrs. Stark and Miss Byle are taking their homerooms to a children's ward in a hospital to sing and Mrs. Pierce's foreign language classes are making Christmas cards.

In this spirit Derby wishes you all a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

SOUTHFIELD HIGH Holiday Spirit Pervades School

Christmas is a major enterprise at Southfield High. Clubs, classes, and other school groups are busy preparing special projects to be completed before the holidays.

Major projects are the Christmas concert, a junior class Christmas dance, a Christmas assembly and the Student Council Food Basket Drive.

The Concert was held Monday in the auditorium under the direction of Vincent Koehenderfer. Taking part were the varsity choir, the girls' glee club, the girls' choir, a madrigal group, a triple trio, a brass ensemble, and vocal, instrumental, dance and organ solos. The Hallelujah Chorus, led by the girls' choir, participated, climaxed the program.

The junior class Christmas dance, "Fantasy in White," will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. in the gym.

"The Littlest Angel" will be presented by the dramatic class at Christmas assembly, Thursday at 1 p.m. The madrigal group will furnish music, under the direction of Mrs. Judith Williams.
