

Babes in Toyland

In true Victory Herbert manner, Bloomfield Village School created its own toyland last week for the Christmas program they presented entitled "Toy Shop". Participating in the musical portion of the fantasy

the Howe Balmer home on Snowshoe Circle last Sunday. They invited 50 friends to stop by after church.

The Balmer's son, Rowe, Jr., arrived home this week from the University of Vermont where he is a freshman.

A trip to Florida was a warm prelude to Christmas for Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brogan, of Carriage Road. They vacationed for a week at Key Biscayne.

It's a Woman's World At the Flaherty Home

GILBERT LAKE — By Friday the Joseph Flaherty home on Fox Valley will be full of holiday guests. All of their daughters will be home including Pat and her husband, Jim McCreary, and their two tiny daughters from Toledo. Mrs. Flaherty's sisters, the misses Marguerite, Eleanor and Jeanne Burns are arriving from New Castle, Pa., and totaling up it develops the only men in the crowd

WESTWOOD MANOR — Members of the Westwood Manor branch W.N.P.G.A. met Friday at the home of Mrs. Robert Rice, of Westwood Lane. Following luncheon they took the "Christmas Walk" sponsored by the Junior Symphony.

CHALMERS LAKE — Sparkling holiday nothings created a Christmas setting at the Elwood Engel home on Franklin Road when they entertained 90 members of Engel's staff at their annual Christmas party. Following a midnight buffet the guests stayed on to dance 'til dawn.

The Engels expect to entertain all the members of their family on Christmas day and, following an annual custom, friends will stop by Christmas afternoon.

Impending Move West Motivates Partying

BLOOMFIELD HEIGHTS—This is the last Christmas season Dr. and Mrs. S. P. Jenson will spend in their home on Sodon Lake Road so they have planned a busy schedule of entertaining for the holiday season. The Jensons will soon move to Wolverine Lake while they build a home in Tucson.

Sunday night their study group from Christ Church Cranbrook met for a punch bowl before caroling through the neighborhood. They returned to the Jensons' for a buffet supper.

Saturday night the Jensons entertained their dental group supper club with their annual Christmas dinner party.

The Jensons expect their daughters home for Christmas. Kay and Mrs. John Rogers and Steven will be coming from Whiteman Air Force Base in Missouri and Mr. and Mrs. William Cully will arrive from Ann Arbor with Brian David. He will be christened Christmas Eve at Christ Church and the Jensons have planned a champagne supper following the christening.

On Dec. 28 the Jensons will entertain her Wayne State alumnae group and their husbands with their annual Christmas dinner party.

Members of the Bloomfield Heights branch, W.N.P.G.A. met yesterday at the home of Mrs. A. C. Haefner of Cedar Bend Drive. Co-hostesses at the morning meeting were Mrs. John Doll and Mrs.

family dinner party. Their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold E. Brown, arrived Monday from Texas for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Drew C. Haneline, of Bradway Blvd., entertained Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marsh and Mr. and Mrs. James Knowles last week at the DAC floorshow.

Entertaining at their annual Christmas open house on Christmas Eve will be Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kraus, of N. Glenmary. There will be gifts for everyone and dinner will be served at midnight.

Revolving Ballerina Highlights Decor

WING LAKES — A sparkling ballerina revolving in the picture window greeted guests arriving Saturday for cocktails at the Walter Stecker home on Wing Lake Road.

The ballerina is a new addition this year to the Stecker's annual Christmas display. Each year Mrs. Stecker's sister in California makes a new life-size figure to delight the Stecker's small fry.

In spite of the packages stand in the library window, and spotlighted on the lawn are Santa's three reindeer.

Christmas week-end guests at the Stecker home will be Mrs. Charles Dann and Mrs. Stecker's father and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ross A. Fife, of Newtown, Conn. In spite of the busy Christmas season Mrs. Stecker found time to write a Christmas play in verse, "Santa's Secret" was presented in parlors Tuesday afternoon by children at Conant School.

Two birthdays were celebrated last week-end at the home of Dr. and Mrs. BarF E. Weston, of For-man Drive. Saturday evening Mrs. Weston gave a birthday dinner party honoring Dr. Weston. The Westons' son, Craig, arrived home Friday from U. of M. and his birthday was celebrated Sunday.

Santa arrived to pass out gifts Sunday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willis C. Behrd, of For-man Drive. The Behrds entertained at their annual Christmas party for the 18 children of members of their paper club.

Christmas starts today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robinson, of Sunningdale, when the first of a home-full of guests will arrive. Coming from New Jersey are Mrs. Robinson's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Robinson, of Detroit. They will fly by Saturday. Mrs. Robinson's niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Steeler, will arrive for the week-end from East Lansing, and another week-end guest will be Mrs. Robinson's aunt, Mrs. E. J. Coughlin, of Detroit. Coming from the west coast are Mrs. Robinson's brother and family, the E. B. Hutlons, who will arrive on Christmas Day.

The Robinson's will also have new grandsons with them on Christmas. He is Andrew Scott Wyzlick, born Dec. 11 to the Robinson's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Wyzlick. The Robinson's son and his family will also spend Christmas Day with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Weimar, of Sunningdale, held open house for 50 friends last Sunday afternoon.

The For-man Wing Lake Property Owners association held their annual progressive dinner party recently. Mrs. Ben Stephenson is chairman. Progressing along For-man Drive the group had cocktails at the Gordon Marshall, dined at the Kay Waldrons, the main course at the Fred Symon and dessert and dancing at the Pisas'. A skating party is being planned for Jan. 29.
