State Has Earned Auto Reputation

Fourth in a Series
 By WILLARD BAIRD

Most people think of Michigan as the automobile state. Our fame as car makers is worldwide . . . as it should be. Michigan manufacturers produce 85 percent of all cars, trucks and other automotive vehicles made in the United States, including the output of their assembly plant operations in other states.

All but a handful of the major trade names of the American automotive industry designate products made or originated in Michigan.

MICHIGAN IS the home of the automotive "Big Three"—Chrysler, Ford and General Motors—as well as the business headquarters for the smaller American Motors Corp. And it's also the home of the Continental Motors of Muskegon, the world's largest manufacturer of internal combustion engines.

While the auto industry is decentralizing its production facilities, to place assembly plants closer to east coast, west coast and southern markets, Michigan continues to be the core area and brain center of the industry. Of the 113 new plants built by auto makers since World War II, 44 were built in Michigan, including executive office headquarters and research and testing laboratories.

PRIMARILY CENTERED in Detroit—motor capital of the world—the automotive industry also reaches into many other Michigan cities . . . the automaking plants in Dearborn, Flint, Lansing, Pontiac, Wayne, Willow Run, Wixom, Kalamazoo . . . and the parts and sub-assembly plants in Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Saginaw, Bay City, Jackson, Port Huron, Ypsilanti and many others.

Famed the world over for our manufacture of motor cars, Michigan is also industrially pre-eminent in scores of other ways.

We lead the nation in the production of cereal foods . . . mobile working machinery . . .

The Answers to Your Gardening Questions
 by Bob

QUESTION OF THE WEEK:
 Should trees be planted in the spring or fall?

BOB'S ANSWER:
 Generally speaking, spring planting is recommended for all deciduous trees. However, there are so many exceptions to this rule that you'd better call us for specific information on the planting of any particular variety.

Every one of our clients is our MOST IMPORTANT ONE

Since the day we opened our doors over 27 years ago, it has been our policy to give every client's account personal attention, regardless of whether his portfolio is very large or modest in size. We try to invest each client's funds as judiciously as we would our own, giving careful consideration to their requirements.

Next time you're near the Harbour Building, come in and visit us . . . for consultation, or just to get acquainted, and perhaps relax for a few minutes and watch the transactions flash across our big electronic board. If it isn't convenient for you to come downtown, one of our staff members will be happy to drop in at your home—in the evening if you wish—and discuss your investment requirements.
