branches that surround the pad. And keep me from being glad. Crazy dad, just pull those wheels down and around to Endsville. Got a scoop on a Winterama that's all fun boy, not just drama. Give heed, what's the speel. Tell me this gig's all real. Stick and stay and don't go way man. There'll be skating, chow and dancing to a beat. Skating on ice? Nice! And catch this cat. The gig's at the Torry school. It happens on Feb. the 12th and is it going to be cool! I'm way out now, so keep on talkin. What's the fare and uniform? The donator's six bits dad. And dress cool and casual, it's the fad. No need to stand in line 'cause dancing starts right at nine. Like it sounds like a blast like

Linda Esterline Weds Alan D. MacKellar

Franklin Community church was the scene Saturday afternoon for the marriage of Linda Jean Esterline and Alan Douglas MacKellar. The Rev. Robert Searls performed the 4 o'clock ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Esterline of Ovid drive, Franklin. Alan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle A. MacKellar of Royal Oak.

THE BRIDE wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie designed with a square neckline, bouffant skirt and a large bow in back. A half hat covered in lace and scattered with seed pearls secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried white baby roses and stephanotis. Honor attendant was Bonnie Sovereign. She wore a street length dress of blue taffeta with crushed waistline, bouffant skirt and large bustle bow. She wore a headband with circular veil of blue and carried yellow roses.

FLOWER GIRL, Eva Lynn Coy, wore a short length dress in daffodi yellow and carried a mixed bouquet.

Best man was William MacKellar and ushers were Robert Esterline and Richard Ansted.

Mother of the bride selected a garnet velvet sheath dress with pale pink accessories. Mrs. MacKellar chose a beige brocade sheath with toast accessories.

THE NEW Mrs. MacKellar wore a checked shirtwaist dress to start her travels to the Smoky Mountains.

MRS. JOHN W. FOERSTER

Bride Wears Chantilly Lace Gown

Patricia A. Felix became the bride of John W. Foerster Saturday noon at St. Benedict's church in Pontiac. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Felix of Pontiac. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Foerster of Stanley street, Birmingham.

The bride wore a chantilly lace gown designed with long tapering sleeves and a scooped neckline. Her bouquet consisted of orchids.

ATTENDANTS were Marge Patton, Norma Reschel and Mary Jane Felix. They wore nylon orchid dresses featuring full skirts. They carried white carnations and roses.

Robert Smith stood as best man and ushers were James Foerster, and Owen Smith.

A buffet luncheon was served in the church hall following the ceremony.

THE BRIDE'S mother chose a blue lace sheath with navy accessories. Mrs. Foerster selected a champagne lace dress with brown accessories. They both had baby pink roses.
