Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills Society Notes from Nancy Porter.

News for this column may be phoned to Mrs. Porter between 6 and 9:30 P.M. at MI 4-2880

The patience of Mrs. Janet Wherry Martin's neighbors was rewarded and their curiosity satisfied when she invited 22 in for tea a week ago Sunday.

They discovered then that she had a perfectly good reason for having a hole made in her roof. The hole was necessary for the installation of a "packaged" fireplace. Mrs. Martin has been remodeling her home at 528 West Frank street ever since she moved in last November.

She has made one large studio out of three smaller rooms and is now able to accommodate her two grand pianos and has additional office space for her newly-formed Martin Music company. Her antique glass collection is built into a glass of windows so that it can be seen from the outside of the house.

The talented Mrs. Martin has recently written and had published two music books, copies of which are being featured this week in the front window of a prominent Detroit music store which is introducing them and doing workshops on them.

Starting out late last spring, Mrs. Martin toured the country introducing her first book which is now being used by the University of Michigan school of music instruction for their methods and materials course, and by several other music school departments around the country.

The introduction of the book at the Aspen, Colo., Music festival last summer necessitated an international copyright.

Professor Sergei Farnowski, who was Vladimir Horowitz's teacher for seven years and who now teaches master classes of teachers in Los Angeles, Calif., took several copies of her book for his use.

Sunday Hockey Game

Out at the Cranbrook Skating club, an unusual hockey game is played every Sunday noon, which grew out of a father-son competition. John L. Lovett, Jr., of Orchard Ridge road and his son, Jim, and Oscar Tower, Jr., of Fairfax road, and his son, Chuck, were among the originators last year.

The fathers gathered teammates from among their friends and the sons did likewise. Among those who now play fairly regularly on the "fathers" team are William D. Crim, Jr., of Dorchester road, Francis C. McMath of Broadway, Waldemar H. Adams of Pilgrim road, James Field, David B. Mott of Pleasant street, William E. Roberts of Abbey road, Robert E. Fife of Yarmouth, and Richard Strickland of Waddington road.

Despite the lack of a referee, regular positional hockey is played with regulation lines. Any off-sides are called by the men or boys themselves.

Because many of the skaters also enjoy skiing, they often do not know who their teammates will be. The Ossie Towers were skiing at Otisago this past weekend, as were the David J. Underdowns of was here last week end on a combined business and pleasure trip. His daughter Sue is a boarding student in the senior class at Kingswood school, Cranbrook.

Feted on Birthday

Despite the traveling habits of Birmingham area people, some remain home long enough to entertain. Mrs. Lewis K. Marshall and Mrs. Albert Jehu, who have recently moved from Grosse Pointe to Birmingham, their new address being 2100 Avon lane.

Honor Newcomers

Mr. and Mrs. Russell G. Heyl Jr., of Latham road, entertained at a buffet supper Saturday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jehu, who have recently moved from Grosse Pointe to Birmingham, their new address being 2100 Avon lane.

The guests were all members of families who summer up at Torch lake, including Mrs. Heyl's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Boucher, Mr. and Mrs. R. Jamison Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Richard V. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Purdy—all of the Birmingham area, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dugener of Grosse Pointe and George B. Martin of Huntington Woods (Mrs. Martin is vacationing in Florida).

Coffins Entertain

Also on Saturday evening the Dean Coffins of North Woodward avenue had an informal gathering which included the John S. Coppins, the Harry Guests, the Gordon Millers, Dr. Vance Fentress, Albert T. Hapke, Mildred Flavelle, and Janet W. Martin.

Supper Group Meet

This coming Saturday evening the James W. Rowlands of Suffolk road are entertaining their post-lock supper group. Three members of the group have birthdays on Feb. 19 and/or 20, so the get-together will double as a birthday party with many small presents being given and received. Guests will be the William H. Spinnings, the Charles A. Eddy, the J. L. Rosta, and the Junior Richard Browns.

Mr. Rowland's parents, the W. C. Rowlands of North Adams road, are spending this month in Melbourne, Fla.

Dinner Party Set

The Edward A. Schimmers of Lone Pine court are entertaining Friday evening at a dinner party. Their guests will be Dr. and Mrs. Howard B. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Wellock, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Woodruff.

HOME-MADE SAUSAGE OF CHARACTER
Even older than Olsen's is its recipe for home-made pork sausage. In the early 1880's, here in Birmingham, a sausage made by Alex Parks, a local butcher, became a famous staple. Through an unbroken line of successful butchers this recipe was adopted by William Olsen when he opened his shop on Woodward near Maple on June 30th, 1924. Ever since, this farm-type sausage has been made here, according to the original formula.

MEET OUR STUFFED PORK CHOPS
Olsen's stuffed pork chops, on the other hand, are a relatively new dinner dish. Our skilled butchers take an extra large pork chop, trim away the excess fat and with a surgeon's skill create a generous pocket. Into this is stuffed our secret, herb-seasoned dressing. Baked, these pork chops absorb the flavor of the sage and other herbs, providing a delightful main dish.

LUSCIOUS BREADED PORK CHOPS
In contrast, Olsen's breaded pork chops come to you unseasoned, so that you may choose your own favorite seasoning. Here is the secret of their success: our butchers select choice, lean chops, bone them, cube them and coat them with bread crumbs. When cooked, they are tender and luscious.

DELICIOUS HAM LOAF
Our ham loaf offers an outstanding contrast to the bland meats, poultry and fish. We take choice ham and fresh pork and grind them to a fine consistency, then add fresh eggs, whole milk and bread crumbs. The mixture is further distinguished by our formula of spices, and blended, all ready for your oven. Baked at 325° for two hours, Olsen's ham loaf is an exotic taste treat.

HAM SALAD
Olsen's ham salad is a fine-cut blend of ham, pineapple and spices, ready to use as a sandwich spread. Freshly prepared, this incomparable relish is also ideal for luncheon sandwiches and hors d'oeuvres.
