All for Honor

Gael Sisson, right, daughter of John Sisson, 120 Overhill, has been named to Honors college, Michigan State university. Consulting with her in MSU's new million-book capacity library is Honors college advisor to students in anthropology and sociology, Dr. William Faunce. Miss Sisson, a sociology major, is one of 117 new members recently admitted to Honors college because of superior performance in their freshman or sophomore years; a "B plus" average is one of the requirements for admission and retention.

Thank You Detroit For Our Extraordinary Growth!

1959 was one of the most significant in our 12 years of operation. For American Savings reached new peaks in total resources, savings accounts and reserves. This progress was due to the continued loyalty and enthusiasm of our customers, employees, officers and directors. We hope the year 1960 will be our greatest in growth, in friendliness, and in our contribution to the progress and prosperity of Detroit and the State of Michigan.

Two in 'Who's' At Hillsdale

Two Birmingham area students on the campus of Hillsdale college were recently placed in the 1959-1960 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Selected for the current edition were Jacqueline Ann Trombley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand N. Trombley of 1200 Lakeside; and Nancy Lee Sheldon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Sheldon of 6494 Thorncrest. Both are seniors.

Miss Trombley has served as social chairman of the campus governing body and as assistant editor of the Winona, yearly publication of the college. She is a member of Lamplighters, a senior women's honor society limited to eight senior women.

Miss Sheldon has served as editor of the Mentor, a student guide publication, and on the staff of the Winona and the Collector, the weekly publication. She was recently initiated into active membership by the Lamplighters and is active on the Federation, the campus government controlled by the students.
