One of the finest opportunities for unselfish service lies in willingness to participate in helping to make the processes of self-government work. To accept the call to an elective or appointive public office—great or small—is to respond intelligently to the duties and responsibilities of citizenship, are worthwhile performances. Are you a "working citizen?"

Holy Name They Started Season With 3-Way 'Bang'

By JUDY GOODE
A three-way win favored Holy Name basketball teams last Sunday.
The basketball season really got off to a good start and we only hope it will last. Sunday girls' varsity, boys' varsity and junior varsity all won their basketball games.
The girls beat LaSalle by a score of 45-14. This was the biggest margin of victory in the three games and one to be proud of. High scorers in this case were Gretchen Knef and Vicki Matousek, both eighth-graders.
The boys' varsity beat St. Benedict's of Pontiac for the second win of their season. They played St. Frederick's Saturday evening and won. The final score of the St. Benedict game was 39-24. High scorers in this game were Dave Walters and Steve Kwany, also eighth-graders.

The junior varsity played Shrine of the Little Flower school and won, making our third win of the day. The score was 35-21. High scorer in this game was Jim Moore, a seventh-grader.
After these wins our spirits are high as are our hopes. We hope these first games will set the style for the ones to follow. All in all, victory, victory is our cry.
Last Tuesday the first PTA meeting of the new year took place at Holy Name.
There was an open discussion of school bus service at the business meeting. Classroom conferences began at 7:30 p.m. and lasted until the business meeting began at 8:30 p.m.
We're sure that the parents found it informative and enjoyable.

FOR AND ABOUT TODAY'S YOUTH

THE BILLBOARD

BLOOMFIELD HILLS HIGH

By Mike Zweig

This Decade Could Have Started A Little Later, According to Him

Well, happy decade to you all. For us at the high school a longer vacation would have been better, but it was back to work on Jan. 4.
Many teachers and pupils travelled, but most were drawn back to begin the new decade of school.

The big sports news was the held at West Bloomfield on Jan. 5. BHS's affirmative, Vandy Parr and Barbie St. John, ran into trouble against Clarkson, but John Weber and Mike Zweig were more successful, beating West Bloomfield's affirmative on the topic, resolved: "that the federal government should substantially increase its regulation of labor unions."

Cranbrook Corridor

By DON CUMMINGS
Cranbrook resumed classes on Wednesday morning, Jan. 6, following a lengthy Christmas recess. Seniors, especially were allowed little time to recall vacation memories as college boards were tackled on Saturday morning, Jan. 9. The next plateau is semester examinations which will begin on Jan. 25.

Athletically, the basketball, wrestling and hockey teams all faced competition within the first week of their returning.
The winter sports schedule shows 30 remaining contests divided among the three teams which all anticipate good seasons. The teams are anxiously awaiting the first Interstate Preparatory league meeting of the season which will be Feb. 6 with Shady Side academy of Pittsburgh.

Cranbrook's winter term is for many students the most difficult portion of the school year. It seems that the school work is in greater quantities and that the extra curricular activities require more time than in the fall and spring seasons.

It is the last chance for seniors to improve their grades and apply to colleges. The first semester ends on Thursday, Jan. 28, and a free weekend is scheduled for all students following the completion of their semester examinations.
