'Snow Ball' Reopens Boat Club

The traditional formal "Snow Ball" which will reopen the Detroit boat club on January 30 promises to be even more elegant and glamorous than the many gala parties of previous years. An innovation in the decor for this year's ball will be the lowered ballroom ceiling consisting of interlaced white streamers and festoons of white balloons dramatized with vari-colored spotlights, and the orchestra shell will be decorated with myriads of suspended snow balls.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Grinnell, II, of Colonial court, Birmingham, and the Edward J. Radenbergs of Ramsgate, Lathrup Village, will be hosting parties.

The huge hors d'oeuvres table, centered in the ballroom and loaded with many unique specialties, will be built around a large arrangement of white flowers. Snow-flocked snow ball trees will be on each dinner table as guests enjoy the delicious filet mignons. Jack Qualey's orchestra will provide music for dancing.

Zimmerman-Smith Nuptials

Word was received that an error was made in the Jan. 7 issue of the marriage of Marilyn Jean Smith and L. Philip Zimmerman. Matron of honor was Mrs. Jack Glasgow and attendants were Mrs. Robert Wilson, bride's sister-in-law; Mrs. Robert Davis, Nancy Bradford, Elinor Schutt and Shirley Carson.

Six Hours In Copenhagen

"A Night in Wonderful Copenhagen" was presented Friday evening at the Kingsley Inn. A gala smorgasbord dinner prepared by Carl Holt, famous chef from the Copenhagen restaurant in New York, was served to the many guests.

Internationally famous entertainers, Svend Asmussen and Erik Neumann, direct from Copenhagen, were one of the highlights of the evening.

Among some of the Birmingham guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Max Frahaut of Brookside drive, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brook of Woodward avenue, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Johnson of Warwick drive and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Richardson of Lathrup drive.

Theater School Already Busy Behind Scenes

The Young People's Studio theater has announced that a living memorial scholarship has been presented to the school of the young people's theater.

The Henry Richard Welsh drama scholarship will provide tuition for any boy or girl 13 years of age or older who wishes to enter into a professional career in the media of radio, television, stage or screen.

THE RECIPIENT must meet the requirements of the school's board of directors.

The newly-formed theater school is being sponsored by the Bloomfield Art Association.

The group is also co-operating with civic, community, church, PTA and hospital groups in need of original skits or plays—complete with actors," said Melvin L. Whittle, managing director of the school.

"WE REALIZE that many groups are frequently in need of the interest created by the dramatized approach, and we would like to lend our services to the community," he said.

Those interested may contact the theater-school through the Bloomfield Art Association, 8611 N. Woodward.
