

JAMES A. CONANT ELEMENTARY SCHOOL BLOOMFIELD HILLS

Excuse It Please, Dr. Conant!

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Better not let noted educator James B. (not James A.) Conant see the sign in front of the school which has been named for him. Dr. Conant might recommend further education for whoever was responsible for the sign. Asked how the mistake was made on the name of the elementary school under construction at Quarton and Wing lake roads, Bloomfield Hills School Superintendent Eugene Johnson said, "I might make a lot of mistakes, but that one isn't mine." Impartial observers speculated the goof on the construction sign might have been caused by a sign painter copying a typographical error.

B'field Woman Presides At Aeronautical Meeting

BLOOMFIELD NORTH—CHELMSLEIGH—Mrs. Fred Lindbloom of Ardmore, president of the Women's aeronautical association, will preside at the association's 32nd annual meeting Jan. 26 at the Women's city club.

The group will meet for dinner at 6:30 p.m. and the meeting and election of officers will follow at 7:30. Another area resident attending will be long-time member Mrs. A. Millard McCarthy.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil French.

BLOOMFIELD VILLAGE—Mr.

and Mrs. Willard Holt of Overhill have planned a small dinner party for Saturday. Their guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Carl Keller of Dearborn and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peterson of Detroit.

BLOOMFIELD VILLAGE—Attending the auto show in Chicago last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Fisher of Bradley boulevard. The weekend in Chicago also included a visit to Mrs. Fisher's family in Oak Park.

LOCHSLEA—Neighbors on Apple lane, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Clark, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Scherer spent the past weekend at the Okeago ski club. The Scherer's daughter, Carolyn and son, Ernest, accompanied them.

LONE PINE VILLAGE—Lone Pine village improvement association held their annual election of officers at the Bloomfield township office last week. Elected to the board of directors were Dr. Kenneth Wood, president; Fred Hanna, vice president; Reg Campion, secretary and David Anbury, treasurer. An afternoon of fun has been planned for Lone Pine village children and their parents this Saturday. They have been invited to Olympia to see the Piston's basketball game. Following the game they will return to the village for refreshments. Plans are underway for the annual association dinner-dance. It will be at Forest Lake country club on Feb. 20.

Glenco Estates Entertains Area Newcomers at Party

GILBERT LAKE—The board of directors of Glencoe Estates improvement association welcomed newcomers Sunday with a cocktail party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Miller of Blandford road.

Mrs. Miller and John Kluck are social chairmen. The board of directors includes Eric Hoagberg, Gordon Appleby, David Miller, Fred Peterson, John Kluck, Roy Hollebeck and Larry Dickelman. Recently appointed to the grounds committee are Mrs. William Bertrize, Jr. and Fred Peterson. Social chairman are busy planning social activities for Glencoe residents. First of these will be a card party tomorrow night at the home of John Klucks on Blandford court. The following week they plan to set up bridge lessons for those interested.
