

Facing the Future

Pictured above is the northeast corner of Woodward and Maple as seen through the eyes of an architect. The store, occupied by Gillies shoes, will look like this after a $50,000 remodeling job, said building owner Sam Bruni. Behind the new facade will be George's Barber shop and the shoe store.

Much Yet to Learn About Water, Waste

Overall sewerage and drainage needs of Southeastern Michigan will be the subject of an extensive $200,000 survey to be conducted with public and private support.

Mayor Miriani announced this week formation of The Sanitation Council of Southeastern Michigan, headed by John R. Wilt, senior vice-president of the Manufacturers National Bank.

Representatives of six counties, the City of Detroit and several quasi-public agencies will comprise the council.

COMMENTS on the survey, the only satisfactory means of attack, Mayor Miriani said the sewerage and drainage study is a resumption of an effort launched several years ago at the instigation of the Supervisors Inter-County committee, representative of St. Clair, Macomb, Oakland, Wayne, Washtenaw and Monroe counties.

THIS EFFORT, under the leadership of the National Sanitation Foundation, resulted in an exhaustive study of water needs of the area and provided the pattern now being followed in the development of governmental units. Wilt said a technical committee to oversee the actual survey is now being formed and will include representatives of county, city, township and other agencies concerned with sewerage and drainage. He added, "We estimate it will take two years to complete the work."

"The survey does not contemplate engineering studies outlining how a specific community should handle its sewerage and drainage problems. It will take information gathered in past and present community studies; compile the necessary information on areas not covered in earlier studies; and present an area pattern into which existing and contemplated facilities can be fitted for the general benefit of all. The survey will not duplicate work already accomplished."

When the necessary material has been collected and compiled, it is expected several outstanding authorities in the field will be engaged to evaluate the findings and outline the pattern for area development.

It Takes Planning To Run a Cemetery

The 13th annual convention of the Michigan Cemetery Association will be held in Detroit on Feb. 7-9. Representing Birmingham will be Emerson Shaw, of Asacia Park cemetery.

Legislation, public relations, developments in the care and maintenance of cemeteries will occupy the 150 members during the three-day sessions.
