Edward M. Smiths Entertain at Luau

NORTH ADAMS—The atmosphere of the Charnwood drive home of the Edward M. Smiths could have been cut with a Hawaiian knife Saturday when guests arrived for an afternoon luau.

Guests were seated on burlap cushions around a large low slung table at the edge of the Smiths' new white free-form swimming pool. They sampled macadamia nuts, Hawaiian punch, coconut chips, pork and fish wrapped in taro leaves and were entertained with a luau from Hawaii for the occasion. The buffet table was decorated with fish and shell ornaments of the South Seas as the group dined on, lomi style salmon, spit-roasted barbecued pork, chicken and long rice, sweet potatoes in orange baskets, baked bananas, haupia and pineapple trussard.

To prepare for their party the Smiths subscribed to Hawaiian newspapers and magazines for the past three months for their Hawaiian ideas. For the occasion Mrs. Smith chose a stunning floral swimsuit from the Hawaiian Village hotel, while Smith sported a male outfit for himself.

Each of their guests received a Hawaiian dictionary to take home. Attending were the Clifford Richards, the Joan Vazis, the John Peppers of Charnwood subdivision, Tom Luke of Birmingham, Miss Lee, chairman of Oak Park and the Lyle Smiths of Huntington Woods.

Linda Doffer, 14-year-old daughter of the Edward Doffers of Barnley drive, flew to London, England, Wednesday to spend the summer with friends. She will be the guest of Dr. and Mrs. William Humphrey while she tours London and North Wales. Linda also hopes to visit France before she returns home Sept. 1.

Mrs. Donald Richardson and 11-year-old daughter, Donna, of Pine Hill drive will be leaving by July 13 for a three-week visit to Sleepy Hollow, Calif. This trip will mark a four-generation celebration with grandmother and great-grandmother. Mrs. Shirley Walker and Mrs. Harace Goffin.

While the Richardson girls are gone, son Patrick will attend Camp Howell boy scout camp at Brighton for two weeks. His third week will be spent at Lake Portage with his aunt, Mrs. Howard Linder of Birmingham. While everyone is gallivanting, dad will hold down the home front.

Janet Dewar, daughter of the William Dewars of Anslow lane, and Dee Holmes, daughter of the Douglas Holmes of Bloomfield Hills, boarded the chartered bus last Tuesday for Camp Huntington on Wallon Lake near Boyne City. Janet will spend the summer at camp while Dee plans on a one-month stay.

Judy Moorhead of Rouge Circle drive and Pat Dixon of Walnut Hill drive entertained friends last Monday at a garden party, honoring Maureen Johnson of Birmingham at the Moorhead residence. Games were played in the garden following the luncheon. Attending were Peg Manegold, Sue Monroe, Ann Featherstone, Betsy King, Linda Markie, Nan Jones and Lauren Love, all of Birmingham.

The Coyle Fishers of Derby road celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Saturday by inviting 40 guests to a patio cocktail and buffet supper party. Ruby red pennies, carnations and roses carried out the color theme in the floral and table arrangements, the color used for 40th anniversaries.
