

Karen Thompson Weds Robert Eric Hanson

Karen Jane Thompson and Robert Eric Hanson exchanged wedding vows June 24 at the First Presbyterian church in Birmingham. Dr. W. Glen Harris performed the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Orr Thompson of Broadway boulevard, Birmingham, and Mr. and Mrs. William Hanson of Hamburg, N. Y.

THE BRIDE chose a gown of white silk organza with sabrina neckline and cap sleeves. Be-embroidered alenconsage trimmed the bodice and the billowing skirt applied with motifs of lace swept into a chapel train.

An orange blossom crown held her fingertip veil of French silk illusion. She carried a cascade of white roses and lilies of the valley.

ELAINE HANSON of Hamburg, N. Y., groom's sister, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. David Ballach, Mrs. Paul Carlson, Sandra Warren and Carole Johnson.

They all wore short length frocks of ice aqua silk mist. The bodices of imported chastilly lace were styled with scoop necklines and the bell-shaped skirts sashed at the back.

THEIR HEADPIECES were bands of pearl encrusted leaves with matching circular veils. They carried cascade arrangements of pink champagne roses and trailing spray. The maid of honor carried pink geraniums.

brother, was best man. Seating the guests were Philip Hanson, David Moshing, Robert Jungco and Richard Brox Jr.

Mother of the bride wore a gown of dusty rose lace with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a beige silk organza with frosty pink accessories. Both mothers pinned white orchids to their purses.

FOR TRAVELING the bride donned a white floral print with matching accessories.

They went to many different places and saw many different things. But all of our "Old World" travelers came home to Birmingham with at least one feeling in common—Europe in the spring is a delight!

The Wallace Frosts stayed from January to June—long enough to soak up sun and atmosphere leisurely in favorite locales. Like the rest of Spain where they spent three weeks. Roamed the hills back of Granada, looked at lovely old farms, visited friends.

In Greece they took the Island Tours, found the seven islands as charming as they had hoped. They were on the south coast of France, in Rome for two weeks, in Paris and London.

But the most unusual part of their travels was a four-day trip through the Corinth canal. They had seen the same sights by car. But what an unforgettable experience to go on a small boat—only 18 people—and seemingly turn back into time, landing at ancient ports and going up into history-steeped places like Delphi and Olympia.

Birminghamites Home From Abroad

It must have been like old home week on the New Rotterdam—there were so many Birmingham people aboard when the Robert G. Surridge came home from Europe.

They found themselves sailing with the William L. Grammas, the Carl T. Guehring, the Niel Tamadges and the Robert E. Husey's. The Surridges covered nine countries in two months, driving 5,000 miles in a foreign station wagon. They started out in Rotterdam, and saw Belgium, France, Italy, Aus-

Varnums in Europe For Two Months

Going over by jet, the Robert O. Varnum spent two months in Europe before returning on the S.S. United States. They were in Spain for three weeks touring, in Switzerland for two weeks, in Italy and France. They found themselves sailing the Pension Play were two high points of their trip. But, said Mrs. Varnum, the real "eye opener" was East Berlin.

They were there for two half-days going over from their hotel in West Berlin. And at such an interesting but uneasy time—a few days after the 1-2 incident. Mrs. Varnum reported as remarkable the contrast between West and East Berlin.

From the beautiful, bustling thoroughfares crowded with prosperous-looking people, bordered by busy streets, lined with luxurious restaurants—they crossed over to emptiness. Guttled buildings. Stores with facades resembling much more chandies—and only unfilled shelves beyond. And lonely, unpeopled streets. There is no one to be seen there, with every person at sixteen terrupted days of work. Not so sunny a sight as Europe's showplace—but one, perhaps, that everyone should see.

Double Wedding Set for August

Allan Henning, son of the Lester A. Hennings of Ridgeville, is to be married to Miss Margaret Powell, daughter of James Stewart Powell, June 25 at the First Presbyterian church in Fulton, Ill.

HE AND ALAN (one "T") Smith, of Cincinnati, are marrying sisters—Sandra and Patricia Henning. They will be in a double wedding at the First Presbyterian church of Birmingham. Sandra and Patricia are the daughters of the John F. Hennings of Cedar Hill drive.

THE BRIDES' wedding gown was of chastilly lace and pousamer-tulle. The softly mottled lace bodice was designed with long tapering sleeves and scalloped sabrina neckline accented with iridescent. Her fingertip veil of imported pure silk illusion fell in soft folds from a lace plateau hat, encrusted with iridescent, a simulated pearls. Her bridal bouquet of white roses was encircled with lilies of the valley and frills of lace.

IN THE bridal party were Mrs. Martillus Baldwin as matron of honor and the following bridesmaids: Sally Parker, Joan Herrington, and Caryl Powell. Their identically styled street
