Friends Bid Bon Voyage To N. Adams Traveler

NORTH ADAMS—The Gold Cup room of the Whittier was the scene of a bon voyage party for Barbara Jean Gardiner of Westchester road before her departure for Europe on June 30. Hosting the party were 12 of her Delta Theta Tau sorority sisters.

Barbara joined the Gills-MacFarlane tour headed by two Canadian professors, in Montreal before boarding the ocean liner "Inverness" for her voyage to the British Isles. Their itinerary will include visits to eight countries. They plan to return Aug. 30.

The Lloyd Gardiners and son, Ions of Westchester road will be spending part of the summer at their cottage at Lexington while daughter, Barbara, is seeing the European sights.

The W. E. Perrys of Malvern drive have been entertaining houseguests for the past month. Mrs. Perry met their first guests, her sister and husband, and Mrs. Frank Fortunato of Santiago, Chile, in New York. Before returning to Birmingham with her guests they attended the wedding

Thalacker-Miller Repeat Vows in Pearl River, N.Y.

Brenda Ruth Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Miller, was married Saturday church, Pearl River, N.Y., to Richard Emmett Thalacker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arbie O. Thalacker of Lowell court, Bloomfield Hills.

The Rev. Earle Thalacker was assisted in the ceremony by the Rev. C. E. Thalacker of Florida, uncle of the bridegroom. A garden reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

MRS. ROBERT M. Thomas was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Nancy and Sue Thalacker, sisters of the bridegroom, and Karen D. Jones cousin of the bride.

Arbie Robert Thalacker, bridegroom's brother, was best man. Donald William Thalacker was an usher along with Raymond Jones, Adolph Habich and Helmut Weymar.

BRENDIA'S gown was of bridal white peau de soie and an overskirt of white silk organza and beirloom lace, with cathedral-length lace sleeves and chapel train.

Her veil was made of fine bridal illusion attached to a cap of beirloom lace with lace applied along the border.

The matron of honor's dress was of champagne silk taffeta frosted with embroidered white silk organza. Bridesmaids were attired in dresses of identical design but of a deeper copper hue. They all wore headpieces of white silk gauze wings interwoven with gold thread and pearls, and satin slippers to match their dresses.

THE BRIDEGROOM, a 1958 graduate of the University of Rochester, is a member of Sigma Chi. He is with the Detrex Chemical Corp., in Bowling Green, Ky.

The bride was graduated last month from the University of Rochester. She studied during her junior year at the University of Paris, France.

THE COUPLE will vacation in Canada before starting residence in their new home in Bowling Green.

a two-week trip to New York. Their stay will be divided between Mrs. Ann Krueger of Albany, Mrs. Beddow's mother, and Troy, N.Y., where Beddow's parents, the Sidney W. Beddows reside.

Beddow's visits will be brief with the relatives as much of his time will be spent at the New Jersey laboratories of Enjay.

When the Detroit Zoo runs short of milk snakes it knows it can depend on the August Brendels of Beach road to replenish the stock. The last milk snake, measuring eight inches, crawled up to the Brendels back porch a week ago, making the job of capturing one an easy task. The Brendels have turned the wild life on their property into a hobby and have been taking colored slides of their finds. To date, they have pictures of walking sticks, salamanders, birds of all descriptions, milk snakes, a six-foot garden snake, snails, a feeding out of their shells and a family of skunks.

The Vincent Hayes hosted their third annual box social at their Charing Way drive home last Saturday. The 40 attending placed box lunches on the auction block and were given play money for bidding and bartering for the box lunch of their choice.

Prizes went to Mrs. Al Keogh for her "best decorated box lunch." Bill Charrick's box lunch "brought the most money at the auction". Ralph Carrick won for "spending the least amount of money on his lunch". A display of fireworks concluded the fun party for another year.

Carole Colley, daughter of the Thomas Colleys of Parkman drive, entertained 14 friends at a splash party on Saturday afternoon. After walking on the lake the group all of the Eastover sixth grade graduating class, gathered around the grill for a barbecue.

The Charles Cranes of Lenox road are experiencing the thrill of becoming grandparents for the first time. Their granddaughter, Denise Lynn, was born June 25 to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crane of Birmingham.

The patio and grounds around the Dowling road home of the George Jones was the setting for the annual pot luck supper party of the Liberal Arts Group, Birmingham branch of the AAUW, an evening recently. Many of the 28 attending were of the North Adams area.

The Charing Cross Hamlet held its annual election of officers at the Charing Way drive home of outgoing president, Vincent Hayes.

The new slate of officers includes president, Walter Ellis of Charing Way drive; vice president and treasurer, Richard Avery of Squirrel road; secretary, Joseph Gill of Charing Way drive. Committee chairmen are Leonard Grabow, Walter Schuler, Mrs. Charles Keaton, K. R. Richtmyer, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carrick, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Hayes.

Eleanor Grosso, daughter of the Dominick Grossos of E. Long Lake road, was graduated in June from the University of Michigan in pharmacy department at the Henry Ford hospital.

Residents of Charing Cross Hamlet subdivision will be getting around the 20x40-foot pool of the Marvin Lohrs of Queens Way drive for a splash party Saturday afternoon.

Planning the event, which will include comic games for all, are Mr. and Mrs. Bud Carrick, social chairmen of the subdivision. Each of the 18 families attending will tote their own hors d'oeuvres and snacks.

Soon after the Elmer Kestlys moved into their new home on Rouge Circle drive, their married daughter came for a visit. Daughter, Pat, who is Mrs. Graham Desverne of New York, has just re-
