

'The Sound of Kazoo'

FRANKLIN—Under that mop of hair lurks the heart of a symphony composer, Ludwig Von Kazootoven, portrayed by "Skip" Julius at Friday night's performance of "The Sound of Kazoo." Presented for their parents by Franklin day campers, it was announced by Ted Kelter III with Sheila Carey standing by as a stage curtain. Little Janie Hampson, one of the wild comers' "eight dirty children", seems to be listening to the echoes of the kazoo concert. Day campers, en masse, blasted Ludwig's symphony while the audience chortled at the chuckle-filled play.

'Meet Candidate' Night July 26 in Franklin

FRANKLIN—The future of Michigan will all be out in the open—at 8 p.m. July 26 on the village green; (Courtesy of George Wellington Smith.)

A "Meet Your Candidate" night to introduce the candidates seeking state senate and representative offices will be sponsored jointly by the Christian social concerns committee of the Franklin Community church and the civic affairs committee of the Franklin Community association.

Eleven candidates, Republican and Democrat, running in the fourth district Aug. 2 primary, have been invited to speak for five minutes to air their views on "How I Would Strengthen Michigan's Government" or "Why I Want to Be Your Senator." Those who have accepted to date are John Titus, Arthur C. Becker, Farrell Roberts, Joseph T. Stadnik, Richard D. Kuhn and Bruce Clarkson. In the spirit of old-fashioned political rallies, the evening promises to be colorful. A hunting-bee speaker's stand and lights provided by Franklin Village Day campers will set the stage. Special audio equipment has been volunteered by Harold Bousherry. The Rev. Hugh C. White of the Franklin Community church will give an invocation. A question-answer period is also planned.

Troop B.H. boy scouts have distributed flyers to every home in the Franklin area and the hope is that every voter in the district will feel welcome.

Assisting chairman Mrs. Donald Tracy with arrangements are Ray Adams, Mrs. Robert Swift, the Rev. White, Oliver Garwood, Dr. Ralph Smith and John Burger, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pittard.

Come one, come all and bring your own seats!

He took a jet to ride a horse, that's what Doug Van Dyke, son of the Phil Van Dykes of Franklin road did Thursday, Doug flew, like he said, jet to California where he met his uncle from San Francisco and together they are spending the next two weeks in the Sierras. From Bishop City to Golden Lake they'll park and there'll be all kinds of side trips through the mountains on muleback, as well as horseback.

After that, Doug will spend two weeks in S. F. before returning home. The Robert Hampsons and their three sons, Bobbie, Tommy and Chris, spent four days this week aboard the ore carrier the Benson Ford. Embarking Tuesday they piled their way up the lakes to Escanaba and had their first glimpse of the upper peninsula with her family, the Harlow Bates.

More good friends of the Australian sound Archie McCordells gathered at the Franklin Park drive home of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Rosello last Thursday for a steak roast and further farewells. Much befuddled, the McCordells will certainly leave Franklin warmly aware of the affection they earned in the next six months in Dearborn.

A visit 'home' in Ruthven, Iowa, gave Mrs. Donald Hacker of Colony Hill an opportunity to visit brothers in Rockford and Des-Plaines, Ill., along the way. Her traveling companions were small son, David, and daughter, Donna.

A half-year birthday party is being planned for Chris Klove of N. Cromwell, next week. With a real birthday distressingly close to Christmas, the logical thing was to split the difference and equalize the year with a summer celebration.

A sold sign on their Franklin road home, the Yale Simmons hurried south to Phoenix, Ariz., and spent the week house hunting for the home they move to late in August.

Phipps Bohne of Wellington inaugurated her 11th birthday Saturday with a small party which included attending the Tiger ball game in the afternoon and slumber parties for the evening.

Comfortable in the knowledge that she had done an excellent job of publicity for the Franklin Summer Day Camp project, Mrs. Douglas Day and her family took a holiday this week. The shores of Lake Huron at Tawas beckoned this journalist who retired from "another writing to become a mother only to find herself meeting deadlines again as she becomes involved in the activities of her children.

Cheryl Anger and Nancy Bailey headed for the Judson Collins camp in the Irish Hills July 20 for their first camping experience at Wampler's Lake.

The George Howards of Greenbrier hosted guests from Berria, Ohio, last weekend.

many, recently. Welcoming them back at a steak roast Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lepine, Dr. and Mrs. John Burger, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wesscott, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith and other friends from Ford's. Uncertain as to whether they will return to Europe or not, the Ruessmans will spend the next six months in Dearborn.

More than 40 reservations have been made for the Franklin Village players summer splash party July 23 at the Dick Probsts on Normandy. Swimming is expected to start at 2 p.m. and president Chet Hard will call a special meeting of the group to elect a new board member to fill the vacancy left by Archie McCordell.
