Birmingham - Bloomfield Hills Society Notes

from Carol Waltz

News for this column may be phoned to Mrs. Waltz at MI 6-1914

A gay but well-groomed Greenwich village! That's what Birmingham will be, come June 11. And Shain Park will perch colorful as a painter's palette in its midst.

Gaudy-striped tents of blue, turquoise, yellow, green, white with lounge art work artists—more numerous than ever before in this annual Birmingham Art Festival.

You'll have the fun of sitting and sipping in the care-free way to a picnic. You'll have the eye-widening experience of watching around watching artists at their work.

BIRTHS

A daughter, Martha Kate, was born May 12 to MR. AND MRS. E. T. HANGSTEFER JR., of Lone Pine road, Bloomfield Hills.

AND YOU'LL have the wonderful chance to buy good original art at bargain prices you can't believe! They range from one dollar to fifty.

All of this didn't just happen with the flourish of a magic paint brush. Mrs. C. A. Hall, Mrs. George Hill and Mrs. Robert Thompson along with hundreds of others have worked for months to create this come-to-life masterpiece in our town.

Mrs. Thom is in charge of Birmingham's own artist market, which will be in one of the Shain Park tents. She will be accepting art work at Bloomfield Art Association on June 3 and 4 from 10 o'clock to 5 o'clock.

SOME OF The artists you'll see will be Steve Kline and her sister, Maud Kline, who has just come from Sweden. Also Betty Conn, Madeline Wynkoop, Laura Cowman and Lara Lovell.

There'll be Robert Thom, Albert Mullen, Kathleen Birch, Dorothy Sidal.

Other names you'll not find to be Iona Wilcox, Morand Zimmer, Margaret Bilaborrow, Ruth Erickson, Mary Beard and Hazel Nauwan.

JOYCE MCGEE will show a gown of a dark blue stripe blanket, hand woven in wool. Irene Makiakin will have oak and woodcuts. Lehman Goto will have ceramic works of art—plates and a big unusual bowl.

Jerry Kirk will have metal mobiles. Sue Holt will show silk screen printing. There will be Shirley Steinman to show fused glass. Mary Pink to do sand casting.

Harold Mart, who teaches weaving at Brookside, will have some of his students working at looms they made themselves.

Other children's groups demonstrating will be from Bloomfield Country Day and Cranbrook.

Ship Ahoy!

Orchard Lake country club snuggly has scuttled some times—tossed words of William Shakespeare.

Ships are but boards, sailors but men," he wrote over 350 years ago.

It's the "sailors but men" bit that has William in deep water, nowadays it just isn't so!

And there's a whole fleet of women sailors at Orchard Lake to prove it!

NO AMATEUR mariners these, they sail made-to-order custom-laid boats that are ray swift. Moreover, some of these sailors aren't exactly in their twenties any more. They've dubbed themselves the Sailing Grandmothers.

But you don't really grow old making friends with the sun, leaning into the wind, feeling the spray on your face.

Look at Mrs. Benjamin H. Miller, Mrs. Fred Penfold, Mrs. Benjamin Brewster, Or Mrs. Ed S. Reed, Jr., Mrs. George Crane, Mrs. George J. Miller.

Sailors are but men? Ah, Shakespeare. Who ever would have thought you could turn out to be all wet!

THERE'S AN opening sailors' luncheon for women who race, tomorrow, at Orchard Lake. More than one woman water-lover no doubt will feel a sudden chill as poor William wriggles restless in the grave.

But perhaps the noble bar's burdened spirit will be soothed to see that—even at Orchard Lake—the female does not hoist sail alone.

If it hadn't been for a little group of men who for years have been a big part of the backbone of waterfront activities there—those women might still be sitting on the bank. These sailing-minded men sail with boats from the time of the opening champagne breakfast (last Saturday morning) till the ice lies silent on the lake.

SO WE GIVE a sailor's salute

Leaving Bees' Picnic

Last Friday the annual picnic for the Senior Ladies, at the home of Mrs. William T. Goggett on Goodhue, marked the end of another year of work and congeniality for members.

Except during the summer come from Sweden. Also Betty Conn, Madeline Wynkoop, Laura Cowman and Lara Lovell.

There'll be Robert Thom, Albert Mullen, Kathleen Birch, Dorothy Sidal.

Other names you'll not find to be Iona Wilcox, Morand Zimmer, Margaret Bilaborrow, Ruth Erickson, Mary Beard and Hazel Nauwan.

Touring the East

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shaw of Martell drive returned last week from an extended tour through the east.

Highlight of their trip was seeing their son Douglas at the University of Pennsylvania. He is a junior there this year.

Snow in May?

The Fred A. Dieters of Madison saw at least one more snow this year than most of us in Michigan, on a beautiful May morning last week they sat looking out of the window of hotel Broadmore at the broad expanse of Colorado, when suddenly the sun left and... snow!

The occasion was a business meeting of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers' Association for engineers and production managers. But it was well mixed with interesting gathering, with fellow experts and a tour of the Air Force Academy, the Garden of the Gods and other places of interest in and near Colorado Springs.

And fortunately, reported Mrs. Dieter, the unexpected show of snow was short-lived.

Mrs. Ross Returns

A week in Nantucket was more than a sight-seeing holiday for Mrs. Philip Ross of Avondale.

She was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Foulkrod, formerly her Avondale neighbors, and all three of them had painting lessons while she was there. She managed to squeeze in three lessons with Nantucket painter Paul Morris.

Another hobby of Mrs. Ross'—
