Doing Groundwork

Kids did the work at the groundbreaking for City and Country school's new $50,000 elementary school building in Bloomfield Hills. Lisa Mackie (left), 2725 Juniper court, Troy, and Julius Gardin, 23080 Kipling, Oak Park, wield the shovels. A metal box containing the students' messages to future "explorers" in the form of original essays and poems, was buried in the foundation. The school's long-range program includes a junior and senior high school and an auditorium. Architect is Begrow and Brown.

How to Go Forward On a Backward Road

What's it like driving on rural roads? "At times it can be a little like exploring another planet," says the National Safety Council.

"Even if you use rural roads a lot," said the council, "cruising along smooth highways at 60 mph. may make you overconfident when you reach secondary roads. And you may fail to keep an eye peeled for the unexpected."

WHAT COULD loom up around the next curve?
"A two-foot chuckhole, a slow-moving tractor, a flock of chickens, or someone coming out of a side lane," the council points out.

Because almost three times as many persons are killed each year in rural traffic accidents as in urban areas, the council offers 10 tips on rural motoring:

- 1.) SLOW DOWN right away when you reach gravel or dirt roads. And don't let country black-top fool you—you may hit a hole or a bump and land in a ditch.
- 2.) Always stay on the right side of the road on country curves—and on city curves, too.
- 3.) When going up a hill, slow down, keep to the right and honk your horn to warn another car that might be in the middle of the road on the other side of the hill.
- 4.) WATCH OUT for farm vehicles darting out from driveways.
- 5.) STOP when a school bus stops ahead of you and proceed again only after it's in motion.
- 6.) Watch out for pedestrians and bicyclists. And when you enter a small town, watch out for children playing along the roadside.
- 7.) WATCH FOR sudden changes in the road surface. One moment you may be on blacktop, the next moment skidding in loose gravel.
- 8.) STAY CALM when dogs chase your car. Heed "Danger—Deer Crossing" signs.
- 9.) There's only one way to drive on rural roads, say the council, "and that's as if you were blazing a new trail."
10. EXPECT any hazard. Chances are you won't be disappointed.
