

ranbrook Meets Cranbrook

83rd YEAR-NO. 15 . . . England's Vicar visits in Hills church. See page 6-B.

They Had A Ball

at Arts Festival dance and a 70th birthday party. See stories and photos on page 1-C.

Icelander Warms

... to Gilbert Lake atmos phere. See page 1-E.

Scads Of Grads

... Seaholm on page 8-D Southfield on 8-F.

INSIDE THE ECCENTRIC

hurch Jown to Earth Iditorials Jature Now

This

Au Sable Loses An Old Friend-J. B. (Jerry) Webber

The Birmingham Eccentric

'Borrowed'

Patrolman

To Perform

Patrolman Lem Winchester won't walk his beat in Wil-mington, Del., Friday night. Birmingham Police Chief Ralph Moxley took care of

Instead, the talented law enforcement officer will man the forcement of the forcement of the forcement of the forcement of the forcement for

Three Days Left in City's Arts Festival

'Yes' Voters Triumph in Millage Issue

Beier, Hanson Top Candidates energetic group of Birmingham school district citi-that snowballed into existence, scored a double victory

Bloomfield Considers

Bloomfield Hills has a com-

Bond Issue

Winchester Packs Wallop

Patrolman Lem Winchester demands attention in either of his roles. The Wilmington, Del., policeman-turned-vibist is one of the many jazz artists that will entertain music enthusiasts at 8:20 p.m. Friday in the geodesic dome at Shain Park.

4 Seaholm Grads Tie for Top record class of 646 seniors will be graduated in Birmingham at 10 a.m. today.

Leading the class of 1960, first group to graduate from the renamed Ernest W. Seaholm high school, is an unprecedented quartet of four co-valedictorians, Natalie Gingel, Orin Pearson, Daniel Rodgers, and Robert Tigelaar, and salutatorian Fredrica Harris.

orin Pearson. Daniel Rodgers, and Robert Tigelaar, and Robert Tigelaar,