

Charles Pollards Head Antique Car Club's Tour

LATHRUP—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pollard, 27551 Rackham, will chairmen the Michigan tour, Great Lakes region veteran motor club of America from July 24-30. The tour enthusiasts will headquarter at the Hotel Warm Friend, Holland, making daily tours of the surrounding area. The Pollards can be contacted by phone at this number.

There's a new VIP in the city who packs a hearty nine-pound, two-ounces wallop aimed right at the enthusiasts of the antique car club. Mr. and Mrs. Lance L. Mackey and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey J. Smith, Jr., and the former Mrs. and Mrs. J. Kent Mackey were born May 28 at Beaumont hospital, his mother in the former Carol Caddell. Mr. Mackey is a former mayor of Lathrup and his next-door neighbor, Harvey, was last year's president of the Lathrup Village association, Inc.

Over the hills to grandmother's (and grandfather's) for Barbara Jean Pepp, daughter of the Frank Pepps, who will spend three weeks with her, come vacation. She will fly to Largo, Fla., to visit Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Willense, who is making her first trip, who is making her first trip, who is making her first trip, who is making her first trip.

Jimmy Lanham, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lanham of Lathrup boulevard, is headed for fun in the same vein. He will be with grandmother, Mrs. Grace Lanham, at Parkersburg, W. Va.

His parents drove him there and remained there for a brief visit. After two weeks in the east, Jimmy will return to the camp at Chickagami near Presque Ile for his seventh year of camping.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Both of Middlesex say their cruise "Jo-Joe" keeps them happy. They hope to see other boating enthusiasts take part in the sailing program in elementary school and "rules of the road". It is sponsored by the Detroit Junior Squadron, area branch of the United States Power squadron, as a public service.

According to township police, the county will probably arraign Stevenson today. He will be turned over to the township for investigation of similar cases there, police said.

PTA at Walnut Lake To Sponsor Day Camp
WALNUT LAKE—Walnut Lake school PTA will again sponsor a day camp beginning July 11 and continuing for a six-week period.

The camp, under the supervision of Mrs. Joan Beemer, will be held five days a week from 9 a.m. to noon and will feature crafts, games and trips to interesting places. A fee of $12 per child will be charged for the six-week period or $7 for a three-week period.

Any child from the age of five to 13, living in the area, is eligible to attend. Registrations should be made at the school by June 27.

Neighbors Honor Howard Clarks At Outdoor Party
BRAES—Neighbors gathered at the Robert Eichen home on Eastwood road for cocktails and an outdoor steak party recently to honor the Howard Clarks who are moving from the area.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. William Pastor, Mr. and Mrs. James Bernardin, Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Mille, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ewing and Mrs. K. D. Patrick. The Clarks are staying at their home in Bloomfield during the summer while their new home in Birmingham is under construction.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCane were in Kalamazoo last weekend to attend the Saturday afternoon wedding of Miss Pauline Wren Allen and Donald Leonard Robinson.

Mrs. Duzenbury returned to her home in Alma after a ten-day visit with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. McManus of Old Orchard drive.

Maple-Lahser Supermarket To Be Started
A sign heralding a new supermarket disappeared from the Maple-Lahser intersection a few days last week, causing speculation that plans for the proposed market had been changed.

But the sign's removal was vandalism, according to Bloomfield Village developer Judson Bradway, who said this week that he was going ahead with building plans for the six-acre site.

Bradway said no legal action had been taken to block the action. Last month the Bloomfield Village association empowered its board to fight the proposed market at the intersection's northeast corner.

DREW HANELINE, 8234 S. Bradley, had led a group protesting the market's location across from Bloomfield Village school. Bradway said Tuesday he expected to take bids soon and start construction on the market and five or six other stores, all of them in the area. The owner has been zoned commercial since Bloomfield Village was first platted in 1926, Bradway said.
