Walnut Lake Scouts Compete in Olympics

WEST BLOOMFIELD — BLOOMFIELD FARMS—Yards of colored crepe paper representing many nations decorated the back yard of the James Steele home on E. Dartmoor road for the Walnut Lake cub scout (den 7) Olympics.

All the boys arrived on bicycles decorated to represent a different country.

Embellished in the colors of Sweden was the bike of Gordon Shull who won first place in the best decorated bike contest. Gordon was also presented with a silver medal for best sportsmanship.

Mark Moore won first place in the discus throw with Jimmy Bols coming in second. Top winner in the shot put was Mark Moore. Steve Wray won second place. Twenty-yard dash winners were Mark Moore and Randy Wirth.

while in the high jump, winners were Steve Wray and Mark Moore. First place winner in the broad jump was Mark Moore and Jimmy Bols took second place. Responsible for the unusual fete was den mother, Mrs. Steele.

WALNUT LAKE—Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Overgard of Walnut Lake road recently attended the graduation of their daughter Sandra from Bowling Green State university. Sandra will enter Ford hospital to work for her masters degree in medical technology.

Last Thursday, the Overgards hosted a supper party honoring their daughter Karen who was a member of the graduation class at Seaholm high school.

BLOOMFIELD FARMS—Mural decorated walls, lounging cushions on the floor and artificial hands dangling from a piano set the mood for the breakfast party hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Souder at their S. Clunbury home last Saturday night.

The affair was a farewell party given for the Dale Brubakers who are moving from the area. Enjoying cocktails and a late supper were Mr. and Mrs. James Steele, Mrs. Jim Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ferrill, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Marx, Mr. and Mrs. Harry White, Mr. and Mrs. Ty Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. James Mansfield and the guests of honor.

BRAS—Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Mills and daughter Catherine of Eastmoor road spent last weekend at Zanesville, Ohio, visiting Mrs. Will's mother, Mrs. Edie Bohanna.

WALNUT LAKE—Mrs. Donald Waller's home on Raymond place was the scene of a recent slumber party enjoyed by members of girl scout troop 618.

On June 17, the troop climaxed the year's activities with a tour of the J. Walter Thompson advertising agency in Detroit.

Choosing the girl scout cookie sale as the subject for a hypothetical advertising campaign, the girls were introduced to various department heads who explained the many steps necessary for successful advertising.

The girls were accompanied by their troop leader, Mrs. James Steele and Mrs. Arnold Brown. Arrangements for the tour were made by Walter Meads, who is associated with the agency.

BRAS—Among the many parties honoring Seaholm high school graduates was a buffet supper party hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eisen honoring their son Lee Roberts.

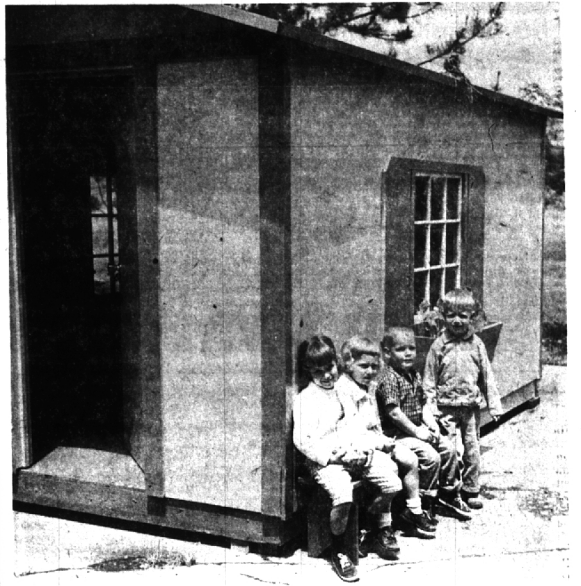

WALNUT LAKE—Patsy Boynton and Robert Salvage received the Nola Peasley award June 14 at the Walnut Lake sixth grade graduation ceremony.

The award is presented annually to the most outstanding boy and girl student in the sixth grade.

Patsy, who will enter the seventh grade at Groves school next fall, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boynton of S. Clunbury road and Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Salvage of Malibu drive.

BRAS—Twenty-four members of the choir of the Church of Our Lord, the Holy Trinity, of Groves school, gathered at the home of Idlewild road last Saturday for a potluck at Groves school.

The Rev. Ralph Stribe, pastor of the church, and Mrs. Stribe attended.

Playhouse Story Told in Rhyme

Poetry was inspired by this new outdoor playhouse when it was installed recently at the Lathrup Village cooperative nursery school. The poets are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Grant, who live on the property at 11 Mile and Evergreen where the school is located. The couple enjoy the nursery school children so much that they gave them the bell which occupies a cupola on the little house.

ny Ragan, 29461 Lathrup boulevard, Southfield.

The Grants' poem:

They moved me to the nursery school,
Just why I couldn't tell
Until they finished painting me
And installed a pretty bell.
Now I am the children's pride
And they are filled with laughter.
My bell rings loud while school is in
And sometimes it rings after.
The playhouse and nursery school have closed until fall. Before that time, Mrs. Hodas will answer any inquiries.

Cranbrook Girl Holds Double Feature Party

CRANBROOK VILLAGE—You might say it was a double-feature party that Leslie Hawkins, 15, hosted June 15 at her home. Her birthday and an after-noon get-together were the objectives celebrated by 14 guests.

Girl scout troop 297 tried again, after being rained out June 13, and held their cookout June 20 at Springdale park. A court of honor was held with all girls receiving their second class badges. Co-leaders are Mrs. C. Paul Howe and Mrs. Edward X. Tuttle.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Herhold, parents of Wayne H. Herhold, arrived early this week to visit their son and his family on Westbrook parkway. They hail from Minneapolis, Minn.

One of our own gals, Mrs. William Weyandt, will appear in the part of Lt. Genevieve Marshall in the Freedom Festival's presentation of "South Pacific". It's scheduled Saturday and Sunday evenings at the Ford auditorium. The festival is sponsored by the Detroit department of parks and recreation and there just might be some tickets left at the auditorium or at Grinnell—so hurry.

Cranbrook Village mother's club which meets every three months to iron out problems, has worked so well since its inception two years ago that the meetings are just plain fun. Organized originally by Mrs. George Cummings, the group numbers 30 mothers who trade off baby-sitting and volunteer for the

Col. F. E. Ostrow Attends Seminar

BLOOMFIELD VILLAGE—Among nearly 650 military reserve officers and civilian leaders who recently attended the national security seminar in Lansing is Lt. Col. Frank E. Ostrow of S. Groves road, Bloomfield Village.

Col. Ostrow is enrolled in the high level training course presented by senior faculty members from the Institute of College of the Armed Forces for top community civilians and reserve officers who will be in policy-making positions in the event of a national emergency.
