

Is it possible that liberty and freedom must be partly or wholly lost every few generations before an enslaved people will rise up against their masters, and history repeating itself, again fight for liberty and freedom? Can it be true that liberty and freedom are seldom safe in the hands of those who have never known its absence, felt its loss? From the appearance of parts of our world today, the answer is YES!

Couple Exchange Vows In Catholic Ceremony

Given in marriage by her father, Margaret Cameron became the bride of Bernard Metsker Saturday morning at Our Lady Queen of Martyrs church. The Rev. L. B. Schumm, S.J., from the University of Detroit, officiated at the 9:30 o'clock ceremony.

Margaret, a teacher in Birmingham, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cameron of Port Huron. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Metaker of Clifton Forge, Va.

THE BRIDE wore a gown fashioned of white silk organza designed with a scoop neckline, fitted bodice and a very full skirt with large sprays of organza flowers accenting the bodice and skirt.

A rose headdress secured her silk illusion veil. She carried two white orchids and stephanotis in a cascade arrangement.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Jean Cameron, and attendants were Mrs. Mary Ellen Sweeney, sister of the bride, and Catherine Foley, bride's cousin.

THEY APPEARED in lavender silk organza gowns with scoop necklines, fitted bodices and very full skirts. Matching accessories caps decorated with tiny pearls secured their short veils. They carried cascades of pale pink carnations with lavender accents.

Best man was Robert A. Metsker and ushers were Joseph Janik and William Sweeney.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cameron chose a Dor blue sheath with white accessories. Mother of the groom selected a beige sheath with black accessories. Both mothers had orchids.

Mary Ann Spiess Weds William Torrie King

Community United Presbyterian church in Drayton Plains was the scene Saturday afternoon for the marriage of Mary Ann Spiess and William Torrie King. The Rev. Walter Teunissen, Jr., performed at the candlelight ceremony in the presence of 250 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jervas Spiess of Drayton Plains. Her father is principal at Bloomfield Hills high school. William is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. King of Kalamazoo.

FOR HER wedding, Mary wore a gown fashioned of silk organza featuring a fitted bodice, bateau neckline embroidered with Venice lace and embroidered cap sleeves. The bouffant skirt ending in a chapel sweep has appliques of lace scattered over hips and skirt.

A cap with pearlized flowers secured her fingertip veil of pure silk illusion. Butterfly roses and ivy made up her chapel bouquet.

THE BRIDE'S sister, Barbara Ellen Spiess, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of aqua silk organza featuring a fitted bodice with soft draped cummerbund, scoop neckline and draped cap sleeves. Her headdress was of matching color with small petals. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white daisies and fern.

Best man was James J. King and usher Robert A. King Jr. The bride's going-away costume was a charcoal gray and white dress with white accessories. They are honeymooning near Lake Michigan.

Louella Audrey Hauca Weds Wayne W. Wright

Gowned in white silk peau de soie, Louella Audrey Hauca became the bride of Wayne Welden Wright Saturday afternoon at the First Methodist church in Royal Oak. The Rev. Horace G. Thurston performed the 4:30 o'clock ceremony in the presence of 300 guests.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hauca of Wilton road, Troy, and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Wright of Fox Valley road, Bloomfield Hills.

DESIGNED and made by the bride, her gown featured a deep round front and back neckline, long tapering sleeves and soft ruffles accenting the skirt with a tailored bow extending around the front forming a wide band.

A crown of pearls secured her short veil and she carried a cascade of fugi mums and stephanotis.

Mrs. Loretta Stephenson, sister of the bride, was honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Jean Ann Wright, Phyllis Jean Hunter, Marlene Grantstrom, Beverly Cross and Patricia Martinec.

THEY APPEARED in floral dresses in hues of green with round necklines, short sleeves and sashes of deeper green. Headbands were of deep green ivy and they carried colonial bouquets of daisies.

The groom asked his brother, Bill C. Wright, to be best man. Ushers were Melvin Hauca, Gene Cooper, Bill Burton, Don Mielow and John Ellerstein.

Flower girl was Pamela Mihalic, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mihalic of Waterford.

BRIDES' mothers wore a pale green chiffon sheath over green tulle with flowing panel of chiffon from back waistline. Mother of the groom selected a green raw silk sheath with a panel falling from side of bodice. Both mothers had white orchids.

The new Mrs. Wright changed into a white sheath with a lime green jacket for her wedding trip to Florida. They will make their home in Troy.
