Birmingham - Bloomfield Hills Society Notes

from Carol Waltz
News for this column may be phoned to Mrs. Waltz at MI 6-1914

Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills schools will be well represented around the world this summer by young but capable, goodwill ambassadors.

Moby Harvey, of Seaholm, flew into Tokyo three weeks ago and spent two weeks. He is the son of the A. M. Harveys and one of a select group of students, throughout the United States, chosen by the American Field Service to live with a family in a foreign country. The aim of the A.F.S. is to create person-to-person friendships over the face of the earth.

MOSBY is staying with the Tohio Kogi family. And it's one of the most interesting we've heard of. The mother and four daughters are Roman Catholic; the father and four sons are Buddhist. And you can start with 6 and count to 20—by two's—and you have the respective ages of the eight children. They have a large home, part western and part Japanese in design, in a national park about three miles from Kagoshima. Mosby is enjoying with them their favorite sports—swimming, fishing and mountain climbing.

BEFORE THE trip, the Harveys and Kogis exchanged letters and snapshots, and Mr. Harvey said, "It's wonderful to see how excited all of them are, and to have them call Mosby their 'son' and 'brother'."

How do you go about planning for such a trip? Well, a lot of it was prescribed by A.F.S.—such as simple hot-weather clothes in the dark-trousers, white-shirt category. Spending money not to exceed five dollars a week. No collecting of souvenirs. Only 40 pounds of luggage including gifts for the adoptive family.

That was the hard part, laughed Mosby's father—"finding gifts that were made in Japan."

They decided on photograph books of America, and Japanese records, Yue Masters and film.

B'ham Girl Leaves For Shibuya-Ku

Joan McDonald, daughter of the Howard C. McDonalds, represents few in the A.F.S. program. She left June 7 for Shibuya-Ku, a suburb of Tokyo, to live with the Ichiro Katos and their two daughters, Kuko, 19, and Haruko, 16.

Stopping over at a Tokyo inn, she was treated to the unfamiliar delicacies of whale, raw fish and "fish heads on a stick." But, she writes, the flaming mustard sauce helped a little.

When she arrived at the Katos, there at the door were slippers with her initials on them, and in her room was her own summer kimono. Joan is very busy now—teaching school, learning Japanese writing, studying Japanese painting and flower arranging, appearing on television last Saturday. But come July 20, school will be out and she can relax with the Katos and soak up some sun at the resort they visit each summer.

Jeffrey Fisher Off to Pakistan

Cranbrook, too, has its A.F.S. representative. Jeffrey Fisher, son of the Robert J. Fishers, flew out of New York yesterday for Athens. He'll be here two days before going on to Karachi, Pakistan.

There he will stay with the Byrangi Mama family. They are not Moslem, but belong to the Parsi Colony of Zoroastrians.

But come July 20, school will be out and she can relax with the Katos and soak up some sun at the resort they visit each summer.

Dada has a jeep which will come in handy for excursions throughout the countryside. That is, if they can brave the scorching weather. Karachi is now in the midst of a 100-degree heat wave!

Seaholm Student 'Ambassador'

Another Seaholm student, Sara Conrad, will travel this summer as an "ambassador"—but under auspices other than the A.F.S.

Sara, who is the daughter of the late J. Edgar Conrad, will sail from New York July 8 on the Norwegian-American "Oslofjord." She will be one of a group of 15 girls—19 and 19 years of age—whose trip is sponsored by the International Friendship League of Boston for the purpose of giving these young Americans an introduction to the culture and life of other countries.

A Bon Voyage at the Plaza in New York, the night before sailing, will be attended by Mr. and Mrs. Conrad—and young brother Johnathan.

After seeing Sara off, they will go to Pride's Crossing, Massachusetts, for some cruising with Mr. Conrad's brother, then on to Cape for two weeks.

Meanwhile, Sara will be enjoying luxurious shipboard food and fun—cruising along the coast of Scotland, into the North Sea, stopping off at several cities in Norway.

Then on to Copenhagen and excellent European citizenship. Among their many hosts will be Victor Borge and Mrs. Borge, who will entertain at their charming castle Frydenlund. Count and Countess Kjeld Knuth-Winterfeldt are planning a party for the group at their chateau (Count Knuth-Winterfeldt is ambassador for Denmark at Washington).

Sara will "live" with a family for two weeks in Copenhagen. Then on to Germany, Austria, Switzerland, France and England.

A side trip to Oberammergau will make available to the girls the added interest—besides the Passion Play—of staying with the families of the actors. They hope to be able to see some of the famous wood carving while there.

Purdy Family Off To Torch Lake

No sooner had James Purdy, son of the Richard T. Purdys, Wesley, arrived home from Gow, in New York state, than he had to pack up again. Mr. and Mrs. Purdy were waiting to take him along—with Richard, Jr., and Mary Jane—for a vacation at their cottage on Torch Lake.

Players Honored After Performance

The Village Players in "Players Pledge" got more than polka after their Saturday night performance (June 18) in the arts festival done in Shain Park. Mrs. Jean S. Greene of Arlington initiated her California grill with juicy steaks for 60, with Lawton Burger doing a commendable job as chief chef.

Guests included also co-directors of the musical—Ward Tolliver and Bill Kregel with Mrs. Kregel.
