

Area Resident Gives Report

Dr. Fred W. Bowditch, 927 Abington road, Birmingham, of General Motors research laboratories, will present a technical report, at the Hague on May 9th.

The Federation Internationale des Societes d'Ingenieurs des Techniques de l'Automobile Congress (FISITA), will hear about "Com-

Abuse Problems in gasoline engines." His report will summarize laboratory studies of both normal and abnormal combustion in automotive engines, much of which are based on flame photography techniques developed at GM research laboratories with both valve-in-head and L-head engines.

Town's Hottest Ceiling

Construction of the new Gold Medallion All-Electric Home at Sagamore Estates reached an important point last week. Electric heating cable (white lines) are stapled to the plasterboard and then plastered over. The whole ceiling becomes a low-temperature radiator, which can be painted or papered over in regular fashion.

Knowles Joins Welding Firm

Leslie Knowles, 2261 Windemere, will direct the newly equipped engineering department at Milco manufacturing company.

Knowles, well known in the resistance welding field had been with the Lein & Wolder company for the past ten years.

The Milco plant is a new plant in the North Adams area, which has announced a new line of resistance welding equipment.

KNOWLES

DANIEL MUNSLOW, formerly with Progressive Welding Co., has joined the firm as sales manager.

Nearly ten years ago, the plant was organized and operated by four employees. Today the company operates from a modern plant at 2417 E. Ten Mile road, and employs 40 people.
