Birmingham - Bloomfield Hills Society Notes

from Carol Waltz

News for this column may be phoned to Mrs. Waltz between 6 and 9:30 P.M. at MI 6-1214

Could it be that we would see a building Botticelli or a just-past-toddling Titian, we mused as we sauntered down the sidewalk to preview the Midvale elementary school art exhibit which went on display last night. Perhaps we'd be the first to find an ungrown Greco or a midjet Monet. Or even a mid-pie-high Matisse.

Our unpeeped eye missed what ever masters lay latent behind the colorful contributions on the hall walls. But we did see plenty of tender talent that could blossom forth into anything. And did!

In the midst of the younger students' exhibit sat a big black water color cat stark against a pale blue sky and signed by Martha Bush.

Beside it was an eye-catching production entitled "A visit to Mexico." Just try to think about what you would see in Mexico, art teacher Miss Mary Dando, of South Bates, had said to second-grader Pat Dawson. What came forth was a rich orange background holding a yellow-haired people, a wall-paper cart and two picturesque signs saying simple "JAIL" and "THE BULL FIGHT."

Kathy Evisizer, third grade, let her water colors run together, then looked to see what she could find. She "found" a horse and dog and ran around them for an interesting overall effect.

Fourth graders Linda Bush and Linda Frost worked with drinking straws, through which they blew at a drop of India ink on paper to make delicate Japanese-like prints.

Lynn Kidder executed an artful pencil sketch of a pair of hands. Lynn is in the sixth grade. Her brother Chuck, fourth grader, displayed his talent with abstract designs done in an unusual printing ink technique. And sister Susan, third grade, did a colorful design in cut paper.

Miss Dando whets her young students' imagination with her conceptions just-out-of-college enthusiasm (she majored in art education at Michigan State) and with endless unusual working materials—string, cellophane, foil, felt, yarn, cloth, wallpaper and beans.

Military Moms

Many mothers from the Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills area were honored this past weekend by cadets of Home Military School in Indiana at their annual Mothers' Day celebration. Two full days of festivities, including parades, drill exhibitions, variety sports, formal dance and midnight buffet, were planned for parents and special guests.

Among the familiar faces seen on campus were Mr. and Mrs. Russell F. Derr, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew G. Currin, Mrs. Florence A. Werth, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram W. Broadwell, Mr. and Mrs. Neil La Blum, Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Tuohy, Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Malina and Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Otto.

Area guests of cadets seen at the formal dance Saturday night were: Pat Fairbanks, Kathy Bouché, Sharon Kirk, Sally Lynch, Shirley Westgate, Rosemary Scheneman and Nancy Otto.

A battalion review, Sunday afternoon, with mothers on the reviewing stand, climaxed the weekend of activity. A sea of full-dress lines, with red or white carnation in every buttonhole, formed on the parade ground, then passed in review before the mothers of cadets.

Derby Day

Even a Kentucky colonel would have felt at home at the Bloomfield Open Hunt derby day party last Saturday. Mint juleps, late-'n-lazy brunch and Churchill Downs itself, replicated in wall murals by Rocco DiMarco—had everybody all but drawing.

Then came the Derby, via TV, at 4:30, with trackside seats for that exciting competition, play by Venetian Way.

It's an annual affair at the Hunt club, planned this year by the A. Howard Maedels. Lending able assistance were committee members Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nagle, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hoyt, Mr. and Mrs. Meyers Cather and Mr. and Mrs. William L. Mitchell.

More of Same

Another annual Derby Day party was repeated at the North Glenhurst home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Brooks. This is the fourth year friends have gathered for cocktails and TV viewing of the Derby.

Aquatic Anniversary

Attending the anniversary dinner of the Women's Aquatic club at the City club in Detroit, May 18, will be Mrs. Guy Yardley of Chittiquan drive, Mrs. Lawrence Meier of Ingleside drive and Mrs. Bruce M. Tuttle of Kildedale. This club has the distinction of being the oldest women's swimming club in the country. Their coach, John Hussey, is well known for having coached many champions.

Mrs. Yardley is treasurer of the club and Mrs. Tuttle is on the board of directors.

Blumes Back

Mr. and Mrs. Neil L. Blume of 500 S. Cleveland, have returned from Florida after three weeks at Delray Beach. They vacationed with the Alfred P. Debbicks of Castie court.

Cruise to Europe

Cruising the Mediterranean was not all lazy days and languid nights for the Austin Harrisons and C. Theron VanDusen. They managed to pack 26 ports of call into two months of traveling, and it kept them going at a pace. Headquarters of the Swedish-American Gripsholm, they saw Spain, the Greek Islands, Egypt, the Holy Land, Italy, France, Portugal and Madeira.

They are back at their homes on Bennington drive, resting from enjoyable exhaustion.

At Hillsboro

Back from six weeks of sun and sand at Hillsboro Beach, Florida, is Mrs. Jack Lawrence of Lake Park. Daughter Judy took advantage of spring vacation from Birmingham High to fly down for a week with her mother.

Rock-a-bye

Getting right back into the swing of things shortly after her return from Florida, Mrs. Lawrence co-hosted at a baby shower on May 4. It was at the home of Mrs. Robert Holsted of Fairfax road, Mrs. Carl Underhill, Jr., of North Woodward was at the receiving end of the gift line.

Jr. Women's Club Installs Officers

The Birmingham Junior women's club installed new officers May 3 at dinner at the Fox and Hounds. Other officers are first vice president, Mrs. Carlton Stewart; second vice president, Mrs. Ray
