Art Show Is By Students At Cranbrook

CRANBROOK — The 1960 Annual Exhibition of student work goes on view to the public at Cranbrook Academy of art galleries, May 29.

The exhibition, planned and installed by the students themselves, covers the year's work from the academy's eight departments: design, painting, sculpture, ceramics, weaving, metalworking, graphics, architecture, and occupies the three large upper galleries.

IT REMAINS on view daily from 2 to 5 p.m. except Mondays and major holidays, through September 15.

Also opening day May 29 is the 1960 Exhibition of Children's Work from the Young People's Art center, in one of the lower galleries. Y.P.A.C. is co-sponsored by the Birmingham Junior League and Cranbrook Academy of Art galleries.

The work on view was chosen for the exhibition from work done by children of the area in after-school and Saturday classes under the supervision of Glen Michaels, who leaves May 29 for a summer of study in Japan.

Included in the children's show are drawings, paintings, soap-stone carvings, modeling in clay, a 20-foot textile mural inspired by social studies; of the Vikings, a plastic merry-go-round lighted from within.
