ence to dependency upon Big Government to solve our social, economic and other ills will, if put to action, result in further head-long rush into Socialism.

In all his political headlongness he yet has to tell the voters just how he plans to raise the money which he wants to carry out his welfare-state program.

A few days ago I had lunch with a group of Detroit newspapermen, each close to the top of his journal's editorial staff.

ONE of them volunteered this statement: "All my life I have voted the Democratic ticket... but this time I shall vote for Nixon. I am weary of hearing Senator Kennedy down-grade our nation."

I CAN REVEAL how I feel on the subject of next Tuesday's election; I can state it in a few words: The only Democrat I'm going to vote for is Jim Kellis, our 18th district's candidate for the U. S. Congress.

Reader, I am not unaware of the mistakes of the Eisenhower administration; I do not consider Richard Nixon an oracle, omniscient and a magician. But I do believe and I am sincere to subscribe to a governmental program closer to attainment than anything that Senator Kennedy has proposed.

were not having the learning that one thought was taking place. We were forcing them to take studies.

OLMSTED admits it's hard to say, but adds, "We are moving into a time now which is looking like a number of these courses as being elective. Maybe some of these courses would be better offered in the summer, using the regular school year for staff and basic courses."

FINAL DECISION for governor was closer in the faculty poll than in the student election. Paul D. Hagwell received 83 votes to 23 for John B. Swainson.

THIS WAS the total of 1142 votes for and 171 votes no. Faculty members were again comparatively similar to these percentages.

AS FOR Southfield school Superintendent Glenn Schoenhals, he said that the high cost of home-making instruction has influenced that school system in the past.

TRYING to sum it all up makes this article feel like an amateur chemist attempting to build a hydrogen bomb.

DEFINING their homemaking courses in education-use, the teachers say "that part of the total school program of family life education which centers on relationships, responsibilities, feelings, and activities carried on in the home."

SOME AGREED. Some didn't. Some members of Birmingham school system students say we should continue to require a year of home-making. But they believe the present course needs revision.

PROPOSAL NO. 3 asks, "Shall Section 4, Article XVII of the Michigan Constitution be amended to provide for submitting the question of calling a Constitutional Convention at the Biennial Spring Election in 1961 and each 16th year thereafter, to provide that the question of calling a convention shall be decided by a majority of those voting on the question; and one delegate for each state senator and one delegate for each state representative to which each such district is then entitled, and for the time and place of meeting?"

ORIGINALLY proposed by the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce and the League of Women Voters, Proposal No. 3 would facilitate the calling of a constitutional convention. The Citizens for Michigan group is also backing it.

PROPOSERS of the new state constitution charge that Michigan's charter is 52 years old and has been amended so many times (66) that it is now out-dated.
