While the Band Played On

WEST BLOOMFIELD—While the band played the Star Spangled Banner, a color guard of Boy and Girl Scouts marched into West Bloomfield high school's gymnasium recently with the first flags for the township's new library building. Max B. Hurt, (left) vice president of Woodmen of the World life insurance society, presented the flags to Mrs. Joel Warren, library board president. Admiring the flag are Boy Scout Bill Brown, 2346 Cass Lake road, and Girl Scout Sandra Willingham, 4901 Malbu. One of the two flags will fly outside the new library being erected on Orchard Lake road, the other will be used indoors. The presentation was arranged by Mrs. James W. Dunn, 5769 Maple, West Bloomfield, representative of WOW of Omaha.

Players to Present 'Dial M for Murder'

If you like suspense plays of the variety that provide plenty of laughs along with thrills and chills, you won't miss the next open-to-the-public show presented by Birmingham's Village Players, 702 Chestnut.

"Dial M for Murder" will be offered as an open show by Players on two weekends, Nov. 18 and 19, and Nov. 25 and 26. The play was written by the English playwright, Frederick Knott and introduced to Broadway by Maurice Evans.

THE CAST as announced by Mrs. Arthur S. Greiner, producer of the show, is made up of veteran players who have played leading roles in mysteries ranging from "Detective Story" to "Night Must Fall."

John Gilray, for example, as "Tony," the male lead part, has played in many Players' productions, mysteries included, but is best known for his role as "Mister Roberts."

The part of "Margot" will be played by Mrs. Harold Schneider, a comparatively new player who has had a background of experience with the Detroit Catholic Theater group.

DYKE DWELLEY did the lead in "Detective Story" and will play the police inspector in "Dial M." Robert Wyatt's appearance in "Dial M" is of interest because suspense play addicts remember him in the lead role of "Night Must Fall." Francis Matousek will enact the part of Captain Loogale. Much of the interest in "Dial M" centers in the realistic set designed by the John Coppins. Although this ers, the Coppins have created many for St. Dunstan's.

MRS. JEAN Ketchum, director of a long list of successful shows of Village Players will direct "Dial M." Assistant director is Mrs. Charles McCall.
