Election Partying Gets Local Support

THE BEVERLYS — Whatever way the fortune cookie crumbles, there'll be partying in the Hills on election night. The George Hostetters of Amherst expect to be headquarters and hosts to East Beverly Republicans. Ditto the Ken Kittles of Westlady on the west side. The Jack Magaes however may head for Democratic party headquarters in Pontiac.

There'll be campaigning right up to balloting time. Witnes this afternoon's Republican coffee at Mrs. Claude Sheppard's home on Madoline.

Have you heard about East Beverly's "royal family"? Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brason of Madison had leading parts in the Royal Oak civic theater's "The Man Who Came to Dinner." Even Christopher and Larry had "walk-ons" last weekend.

The LeGrande Whitneys traveled all the way to West Virginia to see a football game on a recent weekend. They're loyal because it's her alma mater.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kalember of Auburn drive are getting away from it all next week, when they leave for a trip through the Bahamas.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilson of Riverside are in Denver, Colo. during the National association of retail druggists convention.

They're still hearing about the glittering Christ Child society dance at Cobo hall. Another trio attending were the Richard McNulty of Waltham, the John Gilmore of Devonshire and the R. A. Belians of Warwick.

Recent houseguests of the Harold Reasoners of Mayfair lane were Mr. and Mrs. Rex Walker and Mrs. Virgil Stokes from Phoenix, Ariz. Last weekend, the Reasoners were guests when they visited their daughter Calla, a junior at the U. of M.

SOUTH BERKSHIRES — It was a full house at the Russell Harrison's of Woodhaven last week. Mrs. Cora Carson of Florida, Mrs. Maud Lancaster of Calif. and Mrs. Harlow Wright of Hawaii lined their vacations for a reunion the first one in three years!

Farther down the street, Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Piechocki celebrated their 19th with an anniversary dinner. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Nead, both of Leamoor, and Edward Trcinaki of Bloomfield.

Our Lady of Lourdes guild of St. Bede's church, Southfield, met recently at Mrs. Eugene Lasko's of Burtwood court to give plans for their Nov. 13 Fun fair.

VALLEY WOODS — Mrs. Charles Dese's committee of Valley Woods garden club members met at her home on Eastlady recently to finalize plans for their Christmas Shop. It will open Dec. 1 and is a fund-raising enterprise for their annual University of Michigan scholarship awards. The shop will be stocked with baked goods, candy, Christmas gifts and books. There'll even be a white elephant table in the shop at the home of Mrs. Werner Guenther's on Plumwood.

Southfield B of E Votes To Continue Rec Cooperation

SOUTHFIELD — The board of education voted Monday to continue working with the Southfield parks and recreation commission on a cooperative recreation program. The action followed a request by Mrs. Willow J. Lippert, commission chairman, who asked assurance that use of school facilities and financial assistance be continued.

SHE SAID THE Southfield commission was considering hiring a part of full-time recreation director whose "know-how" would give the program more for its money. The board last year allocated $15,000 for the summer and winter recreation program in the Southfield school system. The city allowed the system $6,000 of this amount for maintenance of facilities and operation of the program. Lathrup also gave $500 to the program last year.
